TAFT TO CONFER IN ST. LOUIS ON MISSOURI JOBS

President Will Discuss State Appointments With Nagel and Hitchcock.

DICKEY IS UNDECIDED

Republican Chairman Can Make Friends by Not Running for Senator.

TWO CITIES IN A DAY

Executive Will Visit Communities on Both Sides of River.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 22.—Walter S. Dickey, chairman of the Republican State Committee, is undecided whether he will make the race for United States Senator in opposition to Senator Warner, whose re-election is being urged and supported by more than 2000 Federal officeholders in Missouri. It developed at the meeting of the Republican leaders here today that Dickey can obtain valuable Federal patronage if he will stay out of the Senatorial race.

The State Republican situation has been considerably enlivened by the arrival of Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and Eugene Brokmeier, formerly of St. Louis, who recently was appointed confidential secretary to Postmaster-General Hitchcock. Nagel and Brokmeier are guests of the Republican editorial convention, before which they will speak tonight.

Dickey to Name Post-Master.

It is generally conceded that Chairman Dickey will name the next postmaster of Kansas City. The incumbent, Joe Harris, is an original Roosevelt man, but the administration forces are willing to placate the Republican chairman by giving the job to one of his friends. Another move to rout the Dickey forces will be the appointment, according to semi-official information, of E. E. McJimsey, editor of the Springfield Republican, as postmaster of Springfield. McJimsey's paper has been giving quiet encouragement to the Dickey senatorial boom, hence the necessity for winning over McJimsey to the Federal crowd.

Former State Senator McIndoe of Joplin and former Lieutenant-Governor McKinley desire appointment to the Customs' Court, created by the recent tariff law. There are to be five custom's judges for the United States, each at a salary of $7000. Asa Butler, editor of Albany Capital, wants to be postmaster of Albany, and Ed Austin of the Butler Record, is anxious to hold similar honors at Butler. Z. T. Martin, editor of Unionville Republican, who managed Gov. McKinley's senatorial campaign a year ago, wishes Marshal Durham of Kansas City to retire in his favor. Durham has held that job for 16 years.

Taft to Have Conference.

It is known also that Mr. Brokmeier is a sort of press agent for the Postoffice Department. A Republican, closely identified with Secretary Nagel, predicted that Brokmeier will be appointed Third Assistant Postmaster-General to succeed A. W. Lawsche, who has just resigned on account of ill health.

It has become known here that Secretary Nagle, Postmaster-General Hitchcock and President Taft will hold an informal conference in St. Louis next week regarding Missouri appointments. Neither C. A. C. Newton or Charles A. Houts will be recommended for District Attorney to succeed Harry W. Blodgett, it is learned. It is regarded as practically certain also that W. C. Morsey, United States Marshal at St. Louis, will be succeeded by Ed Regenhardt of Cape Girardeau, Mo. The position pays $4500 a year.

Arrangements are now complete for the visit of President Taft to St. Louis next Monday. On the arrival of the Chief Executive at the Union Station at [illegible]:27 o'clock he will be met by President Smith and Vice-President Whitelaw of the Business Men's League and President Crawford and Secretary Shapleigh of the Commercial Club.

Mr. Crawford and Mr. Shapleigh will ride with the President in an automobile to the St. Louis Club, where he will be the guest of the Commercial Club at breakfast, which will be attended by Gov. Hadley and about a hundred other guests.

Gov. Hadley and Mr. Whitelaw will ride with the President to the Coliseum, where he will speak at 11 o'clock. Mr. Whitelaw will be chairman of the meeting. He will introduce Gov. Hadley, who will in turn introduce the President. The visiting governors will be taken to the Coliseum in automobiles.

Following the Coliseum meeting, President Smith of the Business Men's League and Mayor Kreismann will accompany the President in an automobile to the Planters Hotel, where he will be the guest of the League at luncheon. Mr. Smith will preside. The guests will include 300 League members, Senators, Governors, Congressmen, diplomats and other distinguished persons.

CONJUNCTION "BUT" AND THE CAPTAIN MIXED, AND TAFT MISSES BEEF AND CABBAGE

Aid Signs Telegram Asking Plain Fare; San Antonio Thinks It a Joke.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—News has drifted this way from San Antonio, Tex., that the expressed desire of President Taft to have a boiled dinner at that place was denied him through a misinterpretation of a word in a telegram.

The San Antonio people were willing but not eager to provide a simple repast for the President at their "banquet" in his honor, and when they read Mr. Taft's appeal in the newspapers for homely viands, beef and cabbage preferred, they telegraphed him to ascertain whether he really would rather have beef and cabbage than the usual array of rich dishes served at formal functions.

Capt. Archibald W. Butt, Quartermaster-General, U. S. A., the President's military aid, sent this response to the San Antonio committee:

"Prefer beef and cabbage. BUTT."

Mr. Taft had been looking forward to the San Antonio "banquet" with a great deal of satisfaction. To have a good wholesome meal of beef and cabbage after the monotonous repetition of oysters, fish, soup, entree, game, punch, salad, dessert and black coffee was worth while. But the San Antonio affair was of the conventional character, and an explanation was demanded.

The explanation was that the telegram from Capt. Butt as delivered to the San Antonio committee read: "Prefer beef and cabbage, but"— and the committee thought President Taft a great joker when they interpreted the "but" to mean "but do as you please."

So at San Antone, as they call it down there, Mr. Taft, with his mouth watering for beef and cabbage, was fed with diamond-back terrapin and breast of guinea fowl.

NORMAL SPAN OF HUMAN LIFE IS 150 YEARS, STATES YALE PROFESSOR TO COMMISSION

Shows That Mammals Live Five Times Growing Period and Man Grows Until 30.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The normal span of human life is 150 years, according to a remarkable study by Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale, which has just been published by the National Conservation Commission at Washington.

Prof. Fisher shows that the length of a man's existence is steadily growing, both in this country and Europe, with the progress of science, sanitation and social betterment, and declares that the span of 150 years will not long be impossible of attainment.

The investigations of Prof. Metchinoff are quoted by Prof. Fisher to show that the average normal span should be 150 years.

Mammals, he pointed out, generally live five times their growing period. Man's period of growth is 30 years, and according to that, he should live for 150 years. The present average duration of life is stated as 38 years. The cases of Drakenberg, a Norwegian, who died at age of 146 years, is cited in the report, and is completely authenticated.

THIEVES STEAL BARN, FENCE, TON OF COAL; LEAVE NO CLEW

Wyoming County Courthouse and Churches Guarded Lest They Disappear.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Oct. 22.—Thieves who carry away frame buildings are at work in this vicinity. Some time ago, two small buildings used as storehouses were carried away from the rear of a store, where they stood on a wagon.

The thieves last night carried off a large, substantial barn, 160 acres of fencing, valued at $500, and a ton of coal from a ranch near here. No trace of the stolen property has been found. The County Courthouse and churches are being guarded.

FAMILY OF FIVE DEAD OR DYING IN THE DESERT

Mojave Trail Leads From Dying Horse to Parents Perishing of Thirst.

SEARCHING PARTY OUT

Footprints Indicate That Father and Mother Carried One of Children.

By Associated Press.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 22.—Somewhere along the ancient trails of the Mojave desert, a man, his wife and their three children are lying dead or dying.

Who they are, or what led them to attempt to cross the menacing desert, is not known; but their trail has told a pitiful story, and today parties are searching for them.

T. H. Kellogg, a rancher, was riding across the Carisso Creek country yesterday when he came across the tracks of two teams. He followed the trails for some distance, and finally came upon a camp wagon, a buggy and a horse dying of thirst.

Following further, he discovered the tracks of a man and a woman and three children, uneven at times, retreating and wavering in purpose as though the travelers did not know which way to turn. The footprints on the sand told of search for water against a desperately growing need.

Sometimes the trail of one of the children disappeared, indicating that the father or the mother had carried the dying little one.

Kellogg returned and made his discovery known.

RICH CHURCHMAN DISAPPEARS JUST BEFORE WEDDING DAY

William C. Lilley of Pittsburg Has Been Missing for Three Weeks.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—Police all over the country have been notified of the mysterious disappearance of William C. Lilley, one of the wealthy retired business men of Pittsburg, who is widely known for his connection with temperance work and the church.

The missing man is treasurer of the temperance committee of the Presbyterian General Assembly, as well as treasurer of many other departments of the Presbyterian church work. He is an elder at the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburg.

The fact of his disappearance was made public in connection with the serious illness of a young woman of the First Presbyterian Church, to whom Elder Lilley was to have been married yesterday. She has not heard from him since he disappeared, three weeks ago. The church authorities refuse to divulge the woman's name.

It is believed that the famous temperance worker and churchman has met with foul play, as he was known to carry thousands of dollars all the time.

HUSBAND KEPT DIARY SHOWING WIFE'S HABITS

Many Entries Tell of Woman's Being Out All Night "With a Sick Friend."

"FRIEND" NOT FOUND

Began to Keep Tab on His Wife as Soon as He Saw They Must Part.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—James P. Bowen, a clerk in the Bureau of Highways, who has sued his wife for separation, read from his diary to Justice Dowling as part of his testimony. Here are a few extracts:

June 6, 1906—Wife out all night until 5 in the morning. Said she was "sitting up with a sick friend." Would give no further explanation.

June 7, 1907—Wife out all night until 5 in the morning. Said she was sitting by the bedside of same friend, who was now dying. Asked who the friend was. She said it was Mrs. Brady, but would not tell where she lived.

Aug. 23, 1907—Wife out all night until 7:30 in the morning. Asked where she had been. She replied: "Out. Where do you suppose?"

July 4, 1908—Wife out all night until 7:30 in the morning. Came home hilarious without a hat. Laughed at me when I asked her where she had been.

The entire diary was offered in evidence, Bowen saying he began to keep it when, after three years of unpleasantness, he became convinced he and his wife would have to part.

Before they parted, the Bowens lived at 695 East 136th street. He testified he often sat up until daylight waiting for her, was forced to attend to his three children and to make the beds when his wife felt like staying out late. He stood it for three years, he said, because he did not want to have the children put in a home. Finally he sued for a separation on the ground of cruelty and technical abandonment.

Bowen said he was never able to ascertain where the dying friend lived that his wife said she sat up with. Mrs. Bowen resented his curiosity about it on one occasion to the extent of hitting him with a vase. Another objectionable habit he charges her with was making enough noise to waken the children, and he would have to rock them to sleep again.

Mrs. Bowen denies all her husband's charges in her answer.

Habit and Its Results

For years the people of St. Louis and vicinity have acquired the habit of searching the advertising columns of the POST-DISPATCH for the good things the St. Louis merchants have to offer them.

The results of this habit are that the merchant sells his goods and the buyers get the bargains.

Yesterday, Thursday, Oct. 21st, these merchants, as usual, placed their announcements in the St. Louis papers as follows:

POST-DISPATCH, 91 Cols.

Globe-Democrat, Republic, Times and Star COMBINED } . . . 89 Cols.

No other metropolitan daily newspaper in the United States overshadows its competitors, as an advertising medium, as does the POST-DISPATCH in its field.

Mr. Stewart was elected to fill the vacancy left by the death of Martin Collins a year ago. Mr. Stewart's election has gratified the St. Louis members of the society because of his prominence and popularity. Mr. Stewart has been chief of the legal staff of the St. Louis Union Trust Co. since its organization.

A number of prominent St. Louisans went to Washington to attend the opening of the convention there on Monday. Among these were John Parson, Ben Altheimer, Jacob Lambert, G. W. Nieman, F. W. Krenning, Fred Bacon and George W. Matthews.

CENTENNIAL FUND HAS SURPLUS

That the Centennial celebration was a good investment is indicated by the fact that members of the association believe there will be a surplus after all outstanding obligations are paid.

Subscriptions are still coming in and it is believed the affairs of the association can be wound up by Nov. 1. H. N. Davis, chairman of the finance committee, says there need be no fear of a deficit, though the celebration cost much more than was at first contemplated.

DOCTORS GIVE UP HOPE OF SAVING P. H. M'CARREN

Brooklyn Leader, in Weakened Condition, Has Bad Attack of Hiccoughs---His Physician Holds Consultation With Experts.

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Senator Patrick H. McCarren's fight for life is believed to be nearing its end.

This morning his pulse rose to 130, and it was announced at the Brooklyn Hospital where he was operated on for appendicitis a week ago, that the patient probably had only a few hours to live.

Hypodermic injections are being given to stimulate his rapidly failing heart motion.

Next to Richard Croker, Patrick Henry McCarren is the most picturesque politician in Greater New York. He may have suffered defeats now and then, along with John Y. McKane of Gravesend fame, and Hugh McLoughlin, late leader of Brooklyn politics, but the worst blow that ever came to him in all his career was the election of an opponent of the name of Owens, about ten years ago.

Had District in Pocket.

For years McCarren had been State Senator from a Williamsburg district. Nobody ever cared to run against him, as he was always regarded sure of election. One year somebody, as a joke on the Republican party, nominated a bartender, one Owens, to run against McCarren.

McCarren paid no attention to him. The bartender paid no attention to McCarren. Neither man spent more than a few dollars during the campaign, McCarren because he thought it wasn't necessary and Owens because he was poor.

On the morning after that memorable election, Owens awoke to find he had been elected Senator. He served his term, and ever after that McCarren was his dear friend. After that nobody else has ever succeeded in ousting McCarren.

Reputed a Millionaire.

He owned a string of race horses, and is known to have amassed a fortune. It was only recently, when Brown & Co., New York brokers, failed, that McCarren gave back $100,000 to help the concern. At that time it was said that McCarren was worth more than a million dollars.

McCarren has always been the foe of "Charlie" Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. Many times Murphy has tried to wrest McCarren's power away, but never succeeded.

McCarren was often accused in connection with the Standard Oil Co. His political enemies declared he was employed by the trusts in an advisory capacity at a large salary. He and Senator Grady and Big Tim Sullivan led the fight against Gov. Hughes' new racing law that prohibits betting at the racetracks.

McCarren is over six feet tall and always been extremely thin. He is a staunch friend and a bitter enemy.

Convict Who Tunneled Through Bricks to Liberty, He Thought, Found Weeping.

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 22.—After working for eight hours to dig a hole in the prison wall, John Dawson, a prisoner, finally made an opening in the mass of bricks which separated him from sweet liberty.

He heaved a deep sigh of relief, crawled through the hole and found himself in another cell. When found by the guards he was weeping.

PREACHER IS CAPTURED IN RAID

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 22.—The Rev. Ora Paul of 1520 Oak street, was arrested at a pool hall at 508 North Second street, Kansas City, Kan., yesterday by police in search of crap shooters. He is held as a frequenter on a charge of vagrancy. The police claim that they had seen him about the place several times.

Paul is a son of the Rev. Luther E. Paul, pastor of the United Brethren Church, and is connected with the Rescue Mission.

ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE AFTER HIDING FOR 22 YEARS

New Family Did Not Suspect That $5000 Reward Was Offered for Father.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 22.—After 22 years of alleged hiding, Alexander McFarland was arrested and is now on the way back to Kentucky.

Twenty-two years ago this month McFarland and Thomas H. Patton of Hendricks, Ky., met on a country road. They quarrelled over a woman and it is alleged McFarland shot and killed Patton. McFarland, with the aid of friends, got safely out of the State.

When McFarland left Hendricks he abandoned a wife and four little children. After years of roaming he settled down in the wild coal and coke country of Southern West Virginia and began life anew under the name of Press Carter. He married and reared about him a family of children, who until yesterday never knew that a $5000 reward was hanging over his head for the murder of Patton.

HUSBAND WITH SICK WIFE, DIES THROUGH MISTAKE

Goes Into Next Room to Get Dose of Simple Medicine and Drinks Poison.

WAS 77 YEARS OLD

He, Too, Had Been Ill and Mistook the Acid for a Simple Remedy.

FOUND BY NEIGHBOR

Comes With Food and Finds the Husband Lying Dead in Other Room.

While his invalid wife lay in the next room unable to help him, August Holmig, 77 years old, of 3574 South Broadway, died of carbolic acid poisoning Friday.

Mrs. Holmig believes that he took the acid by mistake.

Mistook Acid for Oil.

Her statement to the police is that her husband mistook the poison for castor oil.

When she thought he was taking a nap he lay dead in the room in which she had been bedridden for six weeks.

He had nursed her day and night and his devotion to his invalid wife was such that it excited comment and sympathy throughout the neighborhood.

It was this general interest in the affectionate old couple that led to the discovery that Holmig was dead.

Shortly before noon, after keeping at his wife's side for 10 hours, Holmig arose from his chair and said that he was going to take the simple remedy.

He walked toward a medicine chest in the hall, just outside his wife's room.

Mrs. Holmig heard him open the door of the chest.

When he did not return to her bedside she believed that he went into his own room adjoining hers.

Half an hour later a woman neighbor went to the Holmig home with a basket containing a lunch for the invalid.

Entering Mrs. Holmig's room she asked: "Where is your husband?"

"I think he is taking a nap in the next room," replied Mrs. Holmig.

The neighbor went into Holmig's room and found him lying motionless on a cot. Unable to arouse him, she summoned Dr. F. B. Drescher of 2154 Stansbury street. The physician found that Holmig was dead.

NEW COMPANY TAKES UP CHASE RAILWAY PLAN

Judge Loomis Files Papers for $5,000,000 Company to Cross the State.

A second effort to obtain a charter for the proposed St. Louis-Kansas City Electric Railway Co. was made Friday, according to press dispatches from Jefferson City.

Judge Charles A. Loomis of Kansas City went to the office of the Secretary of State with papers showing that stock in a $5,000,000 corporation had been filed and that the company proposed to build a 25-mile electric line from St. Louis to Kansas City.

Different From Chase Plan.

He said that the plan was different and entirely independent of the proposition which was set on foot by Col. W. H. Chase, whose confusion with a mysterious "double" halted the financing of the company in St. Louis three months ago.

St. Louis, Denver and Kansas City capitalists have subscribed for the stock according to Judge Loomis' statement.

After visiting the Secretary of State's office he gave out a second interview in which he said that "certain technicalities had prevented the filing of the papers."

The men behind the enterprise, he said, are of good financial standing, but he cannot give out their names.

Col. W. H. Chase, who originated the plan of organising a company to build a line between Kansas City and St. Louis, with a capital of $15,000,000 is ill at his home, 4917 McPherson avenue.

Mrs. Chase said Friday afternoon that his physician has forbidden him to discuss business topics.

Keeps Up His Offices.

Col. Chase still maintains his luxuriously appointed offices in the new Bank of Commerce Building, at Broadway and Pine street.

Judge Loomis was slated for a director of the St. Louis-Kansas City Electric Railway Co., which was launched by Col. Chase in St. Louis.

LOVE PIRATE IN POISONED CANDY CASE RELEASED

Mrs. Ridley Accused by Mrs. R. W. Lillard Freed in $800 Bail.

PURCHASER IS SOUGHT

Police Trying to Find Person Who Bought Sweets and the Strychnine.

Mrs. Maude Ridley, accused of giving poisoned candy to Mrs. Nanette Lillard of 5844 Page boulevard, was released Friday on an $800 common law bond requiring her to appear in the Court of Criminal Correction next Tuesday to answer any charge that may be brought against her.

Mrs. Lillard and her husband, Robert W. Lillard, until Thursday afternoon a Post-Dispatch reporter, have been served with subpenaes to appear before the grand jury Tuesday. Assistant Circuit Attorney Davis refused to issue an information charging Mrs. Ridley with attempt to murder.

Mrs. Lillard alleges that Mrs. Ridley gave her a box of candy Saturday night after a conference at the Lillard home, in which Mrs. Ridley admitted her fascination for Lillard, but agreed to go away from St. Louis and leave him to his wife.

In her statement to Assistant Circuit Attorney Davis Thursday afternoon Mrs. Lillard said she swallowed one of the deadly capsules, but did not retain it.

"I always have to take medicine in liquid form," she explained, "and have never been able to take capsules. So when I chewed up that candy and swallowed the capsule whole it came right up. I held it between my fingers and it popped.

"My husband didn't get home until 3 a. m. Sunday, as he worked Saturday night, and he slept late, so that I did not find time to tell him of this before taking the candy to Capt. Gaffney."

In her statement to Capt. Gaffney Mrs. Lillard said her teeth struck the capsule as she started to eat the candy, and that this made her suspicious. She said she did not eat any candy.

Mrs. Ridley denies that she gave candy to Mrs. Lillard. According to a report of the City Chemist a box of candy submitted to him by Mrs. Lillard, through Police Captain Gaffney, contained enough strychnine to kill several persons. The poison was in gelatine capsules and it had been clumsily placed in chocolate drops.

Must Find Purchaser.

The police and the Circuit Attorney's staff believe that successful prosecution will be difficult unless they can find out who bought the poison.

Though the Lillards have told the police they are eager to prosecute Mrs. Ridley they have refused to make statements for publication.

Next in importance to learning who bought the strychnine the police are anxious to find out where the candy was purchased.

The package containing the candy was a white half-pound box bearing on its cover in gilt letters the words: "Dolly Varden Chocolates. Dolly Varden Chocolate Co. Cincinnati and New York."

Around the box was a wrapper of paraffine paper and about this was a gilt cord tied in true-lovers knot. The clerk who sold the box wrapped it in plain pink paper. There is nothing on the box to indicate the retail store at which it was purchased.

Mrs. Ridley, until Wednesday, lived at the Vrooman Apartments. She is a manicure and widow of a bartender.

After spending the night in a cell she was less emphatic in her expressions of love for Lillard than she had been after her arrest while in company with Lillard Thursday afternoon.

Denies She Gave Candy.

"I did not give a box of candy to Mrs. Lillard last Saturday night, as she alleges, and I never gave her any candy," she said. "I loved Bob Lillard and I believed that he was willing to give up his wife for me. I had every reason to believe that he returned my love."

"Why do you think Lillard is so anxious to prosecute you?" asked Capt. Gaffney.

"I don't know, unless he is doing it to save himself."

After saying this she refused to answer further questions.

Mrs. Lillard went to the Page Avenue Police Station last Saturday and told Capt. Gaffney that Mrs. Ridley, who then lived at the Vrooman Apartments, Taylor and McPherson avenues, was trying to take her husband away from her. The Captain told her that unless some overt offense was committed by Mrs. Ridley he could not make an arrest.

Mrs. Lillard returned to the station the next day carrying a box of candy. She told Capt. Gaffney that Mrs. Ridley had called at her home Saturday night and after a long conference had agreed to give up Lillard and leave town.

"She asked me to walk to the corner with her and I consented. Just before she got on a street car she handed me this box of candy. I bit into one of the chocolate drops and my teeth struck something hard. I want you to have the candy analyzed."

Captain Misled Lillard.

Capt. Gaffney sent the candy to the City Chemist for analysis. Tuesday, he says, Lillard called on him at the police station and asked if anything had been found in the candy. The Captain says that he purposely gave Lillard the impression that nothing had been found, knowing that his statement would be repeated by Lillard to Mrs. Lillard and to Mrs. Ridley. At that time Gaffney had received a preliminary report indicating that the candy contained poison.

The following day Capt. Gaffney found a note from Mrs. Lillard on his desk. It read:

"I am very sorry I put you to so much unnecessary trouble. I regret that my fears got the better of my judgment. I enclose a telegram from my husband's father.

"As nothing was found in the candy there is nothing else for me to do. The lady in the case has won out and I have agreed to separate, so she may have him."

The telegram inclosed was from Lillard's father, John T. Lillard, a wealthy resident of Bloomington, Ill. It read:

"Swear out a warrant. Don't fear for publicity to me. Don't hesitate or falter."

Candy Sent to Chemist.

Capt. Gaffney sent the box to the City Chemist. Thursday he received the report of the chemist that the candy contained strychnine, and that the contents of one piece had killed a rabbit in two minutes.

According to Mrs. Lillard's statement to the police there was no witness when she and Mrs. Ridley parted at the street corner Saturday night. She says that Mrs. Ridley gave her the candy. Mrs. Ridley says she did not, and intimates that the candy was prepared by someone who had an interest in turning Lillard against her.

All Held Conference.

Mrs. Ridley and the Lillards told the police of conferences at the Lillard home, in which she, Lillard and Mrs. Lillard discussed the advisability of permitting Lillard to obtain a divorce, so that he would be free to marry the widow.

Mrs. Ridley's husband, who was employed at the Jefferson Hotel bar, died 18 months ago. For a time she was a manicure in the Holland Building. Two months ago she opened a rooming house at 4117 Washington avenue. Lillard's wife went South for her health and he rented a room from Mrs. Ridley. She says they had not known each other before.

Wednesday the manager of the Vrooman apartments requested Mrs. Ridley to give up her suite and she went to live at the Blue Grass Hotel.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 22.—That he was tempted by Mrs. Myrtle Newman, wife of Pike Newman of Louisiana, Mo., and eloped with her at her suggestion, is the Adamesque defense set up by Charles Neighbors of that town, who with his amorita are under arrest here at the request of Newman, who trailed the couple to Fort Morgan.

At their preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Newman and Neighbors were placed under $200 bond to appear for trial in the District Court. Neighbors, from whom $400 was taken when he was arrested furnished bond for both.

Newman was in court during the hearing and when it was over, his wife, with tears streaming down her cheeks, asked his forgiveness and to be taken back for the sake of their 6-year-old daughter, whom the mother had taken with her to Colorado. Newman finally relented, but insisted that Neighbors should be punished.

The District Attorney, however, declared that if Neighbors was to be punished, Mrs. Newman must also stand trial and demanded that Newman pledge himself to remain and prosecute charges he filed against his wife and his former friend.

When Neighbors was told of the reconciliation of the Newmans and that the woman ought to be prosecuted he declared he was the one who had been tempted. He said that when he left Louisiana with Mrs. Newman two weeks ago, he took $1000 in cash with him, over half of which he had already spent upon her.

Neighbors is said to have a wife and family at Louisiana.

TWO ACQUITTED; COX-SCALES FEUD BROUGHT TO END

Factions Shake Hands in Court After Trial of Bledsoe and Deputy Sheriff.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KENNETT, Mo., Oct. 22.—The Cox-Scales feud is ended. John H. Bledsoe and Deputy Sheriff John W. Summers were acquitted yesterday of complicity in the murder of Joe Scales. When the verdict was announced, the men were surrounded by members of both factions of the feud. All shook hands with the former prisoners and congratulated them on the outcome of the case. Cox supporters shook hands with Scales adherents and the war was over.

Joe Scales, who killed Leslie Cox in a tent show July 4, was brought from the penitentiary to testify. He went back this morning to resume the 10-year sentence imposed when he pleaded guilty.

The feud began with the local option fight in 1907, when Dr. A. L. Brannum killed Attorney Cox, father of Leslie Cox. Dr. Brannum was killed afterwards while in the custody of the Sheriff.

GRACE MAIDHOFF SENT TO PRISON FOR THREE YEARS

Her Fiance Receives Sentence of Five Years—Says He Was Taft's Secretary.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Grace Maidhoff, known as Grace Richardson, the Missouri girl, who was arrested last July for passing forged checks on Harlem shopkeepers, was sentenced by Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions yesterday to serve not less than three years nor more than five years in the State prison for women in Auburn. Her fiance, Ralph H. S. Whitney, was sent to Sing Sing prison for not less than five nor more than ten years.

The prisoners were in despair when Judge Mulqueen pronounced sentence. They had expected immunity, having testified against John H. Freese, a lawyer, whom they accused of having been the master mind in their extensive operations. Freese at his trial, however, was acquitted. A letter written by Whitney to the Maidhoff woman advising her what to say against Freese was produced by the lawyer's attorney to show there was a conspiracy against Freese by Whitney and the woman.

Contradicts Herself.

Charles Le Barbier appeared for Whitney and Miss Maidhoff yesterday. He submitted an affidavit made by the woman to show that she had never seen the Freese letter, though she had sworn on the stand that the letter had been stolen from a valise in her cell in the Tombs. Appended to the affidavit was a request that Judge Mulqueen marry her to Whitney.

"What?" cried the Judge. "A marriage between these two persons would be revolting—a disgrace, a mockery."

Mr. Le Barbier said Acting District Attorney Smythe had promised immunity to the woman and Whitney. Mr. Smythe denied that. He said he had informed the pair that if they told the truth on the witness stand he would recommend clemency. He said he now believed they had tried to hoodwink the District Attorney, the court and the jury.

"I share that belief," Judge Mulqueen said, "and I am going to make an example of these defendants. My investigation convinces me that the woman has been a social outlaw since she was 12 years old."

Woman Creates a Scene.

As he finished imposing sentence the woman screamed and fell on her face on the floor. Whitney tried to throw himself upon her body, but was held back. She was carried across the Bridge of Sighs to the Tombs.

After Whitney had been sentenced he asked permission to speak. He got it, whereupon he talked for nearly an hour, pleading for the woman and saying he alone was to blame. He asserted he had been private secretary to William H. Taft when the President was on the Panama Canal Commission. Afterward, Whitney said he was stenographer for Abe Hummell and other lawyers. He begged Judge Mulqueen to let him and the Maidhoff woman remain in the Tombs until next Tuesday so that they might be married before going to prison.

Judge Mulqueen granted the request.

Grace Maidhoff, 10 years ago, was a student in the Central Wesleyan College at Warrenton, Mo. She went to Warrenton from Arkansas. She left the college after an infraction of the rules which got her into difficulty with the faculty.

LAW SAYS OWL CARS MUST RUN, BUT THEY DON'T

Maryland and McPherson Routes Abandoned Because Residents Complain.

In abolishing the owl cars on the McPherson and Maryland lines without notifying the public or obtaining the approval of the Mayor and the President of the City Council, the United Railways Co. is said to have violated city ordinance No. 21,113, approved April 6, 1903, which requires cars to be run at intervals of not more than one hour on every line in the city between midnight and 5:30 a. m.

In abolishing the owl cars on the McPherson and Maryland lines without notifying the public or obtaining the approval of the Mayor and the President of the City Council, the United Railways Co. is said to have violated city ordinance No. 21,113, approved April 6, 1903, which requires cars to be run at intervals of not less than one hour on every line in the city between midnight and 5:30 a. m.

When asked Friday by a Post-Dispatch reporter why the McPherson owls were not running, Capt. McCulloch, president of the United Railways Co., referred to the McPherson Avenue Improvement Association. One member of the association, who requested that his name be withheld, made a statement.

"They were run about every half hour," he said, "and were annoying to those living along there, and scarcely anybody ever rode on them that far out, so we requested that they be taken off. I understand that just as many owls are run, but they go by a different route, avoiding the blocks I mention."

Owl car service to a large section of the West End, now depends only on the Laclede and Delmar lines. The Laclede cars run to the loop in Forest Park. The Delmar cars run on Olive street to Taylor avenue, and thence on Delmar boulevard to Delmar Garden.

Robert Burkham, secretary to the Mayor, says no request was made to Mayor Kreismann by the United Railways for permission to make any change in the West End owl car service. The City Register says no record of any application or action in the premises has been filed. The law requires such official approval to any change of the sort.

MEN'S SHOPPER TO AID COUNTRY BEAU BRUMMEL

Burton Bunch Advertises Willingness to Attend to Masculine Needs.

SEES GREAT FUTURE

Will Give Residents of Small Towns Advantages of St. Louis Stores.

Burton Bunch, Shopper for Men, or Burton Bunch, City Shopper for Country Gentlemen.

One of those forms, perhaps, Mr. Bunch will use when he gets his professional cards printed. Burton Bunch has just originated a new profession. The following advertisement, which he inserted in St. Louis papers, indicates what it is:

MAN—A young man of good taste will do shopping in St. Louis for out-of-town men; write me for anything you want. Ad. Burton Bunch, 4015 Morgan st.

The Bunch proposition is an offshoot of the mail order industry, but is really in competition with that industry, for this young man will not do his shopping at the mail order houses; he will buy at the "shops"—the clothing stores, the haberdashers', tailors' and the "gents'" furnishing goods places. Besides, he may get some of his orders by wire instead of by mail. Burton Bunch doesn't care how they come, just so they come.

Familiar With Small Towns.

This young man with the new idea came to St. Louis from his native home, at Harrison, which is the capital of Boone County, Arkansas., to see the Centennial week festivities, and decided to remain and carve out a career. He had been here before, as one of the 75 ticket sellers at the gates of the World's Fair, and he was familiar with city shopping.

Also he had done newspaper work in Springfield, Mo., and other small cities, and he knew the life and environment in tiny towns as well. Harrison, Ark., is not so very tiny—boasts 3500 population—and it is the type of town from which Burton Bunch expects to draw much of his business. Boone County, Arkansas, is just south of Taney County, Missouri.

"I wanted to get into some business here," said young Mr. Bunch to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "and this idea came to me last night like a flash. On former trips to St. Louis I have done more or less shopping for relatives and friends. A brother-in-law and his three brothers in Oklahoma had me buy practically all their apparel when I was here during the World's Fair. They trusted to my taste. I think I suited them in my selections. And then I used to buy things for my sister, too.

No Shopping for Women.

"Of course I shall not attempt to do shopping for ladies, but I'm sure I can do it satisfactorily for men. In the town I came from, for instance, there are probably only three or four men who wear evening dress. But there are others who would wear it if they knew just where to get their dress clothes.

"Even if they had the suit they might not be able down there, or in any similar town, to obtain the right kind of shoes to go with the suit, or the top hat, or even the proper bow tie. Well, why shouldn't I select the whole outfit and send or have it sent to the man who wants it?

"I trust the public won't think this is a mollycoddle notion. It seems to me that there is a great demand for just such an agent—a city shopper for men in country towns. While I have not thoroughly thought out my plans, I expect, of course, to make a commission at both ends. The shopper should get a certain percentage from both the buyer and seller of the goods.

"I can keep in touch with the latest styles and advise my clients accordingly. If I get enough clients to make the thing a go I intend to practice shopping as a profession. Why not?"

How Scheme Will Work.

Well, why not? The Beau Brummel of Wahoo, Neb., desires to acquire a swallowtail of the prevailing cut, with accessories to correspond. Bunch gets the measure of the Beau by mail and buys accordingly.

The reigning gallant of Girlville, Kan., wants a dozen cravats calculated to make all the other young men in town look like lost lads with identification tags around their necks. Bunch buys 'em.

The society swell of Sweetwater, Ark., unable to find in the local stores the shirts he ought to wear to look his part, writes or wires: "Bunch, Shopper, St. Louis—Send me half dozen assorted shirts for day wear, No. 15, latest patterns, P. D. Q." Bunch, Shopper, St. Louis, shops and ships the shirts.

To Save Time and Money.

If the boy bridegroom of Bismarck, Mo., wants to save $6 train fare to apply on his housekeeping outfit, yet is determined to have his wedding clothes dazzle Bismarck, he sends his order to Bunch who does the rest.

"Why should any busy man make a trip to St. Louis merely to lay in a supply of wearing apparel," argues Mr. Bunch, "when I can do his shopping for him, at a small percentage of the bill? It certainly looks to me as if there is a big field for this profession, and so far as I know I am the pioneer."

Mr. Bunch says he may open a suite of offices downtown if the shopping orders come along in bunches.

CLUB MEMBERS YANK YOUNG HUSBAND FROM TRAIN WHICH TAKES CRYING BRIDE AWAY

New Yorker Threatens to Prosecute Friends Who Resented His Marriage.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Because he deserted a bachelor's club without giving official notice, the bride of Frank A. Reid of Elmira, N. Y., was kidnaped at the West Philadelphia station and sent to New York with one of the members, while he was kept a prisoner by 30 of his old "pals."

Reid, who is a salesman, formerly lived in Chester, Pa., and was a member of a bachelor's club there. Six years ago he met Miss Cecelia Pearson, daughter of a retired stock broker of Brooklyn. Papa Pearson said the marriage should never take place—at least, not while he was alive.

Two months ago the girl went South for a visit and Reid followed. They were married and the news reached Chester.

Reid was yanked off the train and his face was painted red and green, the club's colors. Then he was placed on a donkey and was forced to ride up Market street.

Then, as the men made merry with Reid, one took his wife to the train, gave her a seat, saying her husband would be there in time. But the train started and Reid was left behind.

Reid took the next train for New York after threatening to have every person who took part in the celebration arrested. He feels that all hope of reconciling his father-in-law was lost by the alleged joke.

WHAT IS HYOMEI?

Yon Have Heard About the Catarrh Cure Sold by Druggists.

Hyomei is a wonderful antiseptic, so powerful that it promptly destroys germ life, yet its action on the mucous membrane is extremely soothing and healing. It relieves catarrh in five minutes; it cures in a few weeks or money back.

It is made chiefly of eucalyptus and eucalyptol taken from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia. The medical profession knows that eucalyptus is an absolutely certain germ destroyer and with the active principles of eucalyptus as a base Hyomei is made more efficient, pleasant and quick acting by the addition of Thymol, an antiseptic and disinfectant largely employed in the Listerian System. Guaiacol and other important medicinal agents are also included in the Hyomei formula, which, without doubt, is the greatest destroyer of catarrh germs the world has ever known.

Hyomei is a powerful, penetrating antiseptic that is pleasant to use. It does not contain a particle of cocaine, opium or any habit-forming or injurious drug.

No dosing the stomach when you use Hyomei. Just breathe it in through the small inhaler that comes with each outfit. Sold by leading druggists everywhere, at $1.00 for complete outfit.

F. H. BROOKS REFUSES TO HANDLE ELECTION BETS FOR FEAR OF THE LAW

New York Broker Who Has Made a Fortune in Commissions Declines to Act.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Fred H. Brooks, who has been the chief of the election betting commission in Wall street ever since the Tilden-Hayes campaign in 1876, and who has handled millions of dollars in bets during that time, has declined to accept any commissions this year because of the anti-betting law in this State. He made a formal announcement yesterday to this effect to check the commissions which were being sent in to him.

One commission was offered to Brooks yesterday by a member of the Stock Exchange of $10,000 to be placed at odds of one to three that the mayoralty candidates will finish in this order: Gaynor, Hearst, Bannard. This, like all such offers, was declined.

The sacrifice made by Mr. Brooks may be judged from the fact that in the last presidential campaign he handled in bets $350,000 and that in the campaign of 1907 his betting commissions aggregated $120,000. The commissions usually paid average from 1 to 2 per cent of the amount of the bets put up, with a bonus generally coming from the winner.

Many curb brokers have also refused bets offered them for execution, fearing to take a chance on the law. One bet made on the curb was $200 to $100 that Bannard would not be elected.

Betting on the local election has been enlivened by the lengthening of the odds and the offering of more and larger wagers. Gaynor, who had been a 2-to-1 favorite, is now quoted at 2¼ to 1, with several large bets at these odds reported as placed in Wall street.

How to Nip a Cold or Cough in the Bud.

To let a cold or cough "wear itself out" is both needless and dangerous. If you will take five minutes and make up the simple remedy described below, you can wipe out a cold or cough as soon as it appears. Even deep-seated coughs yield to it very quickly. A whole pint of it costs only 54 cents, but there is no better remedy at any price.

Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. The taste is pleasing.

Use the ingredients as given here. Granulated sugar makes the best syrup. None of the weaker pine preparations will take the place of the real Pinex itself, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract. Your druggist has it or can easily order it for you.

This mixture is also excellent for whooping cough, bronchitis, chest pains, etc.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.—ADV

B. P. I. PLANS TO MAKE RAIL ROADS PAY GRADE BILL

Will Draft Ordinance Including Even Expense of Drawing Up the Plans.

BOARD TO BE JUDGE

Gerhart Opposes Measure Eliminating Crossing at Compton Avenue.

When the Board of Public Improvements drafts ordinances for the building of viaducts at Ewing, Compton and Chouteau avenues they will contain provisions requiring the plans to be drawn and work done at the expense of the railroads. The Board of Public Improvements will reserve the right to approve the manner in which the bridges shall be constructed, thus insuring structures of the proper strength, width and height.

This information was given Friday by President Reber of the board following the hearing conducted Thursday by the Council's Committee on Public Improvements to deterimne what methods of abolition are to be recommended.

Frank H. Gerhart, opposing the bill written by the Board of Public Improvements for the elimination of the grade grossing at Compton avenue, declared that unless all the tracks of the Missouri Pacific, Frisco, Wabash and Terminal Association were lowered from eight to twenty feet between Jefferson avenue and Theresa avenue, the grades on the viaduct proposed at Ewing avenue will be prohibitive. The same depression, he contended, will be necessary to insure a practical approach on the south end of the bridge advocated for Compton avenue.

In this contention Thomas H. Mellis of the Eleventh Ward Improvement Association concurred. Mellis, Gerhart, Fred Swain of the Twenty-sixth Ward Improvement Association, and Charles Lorch, a property owner at Tower Grove and Folsom avenues, were the only speakers.

Protested Against Viaduct.

To the objection that without a depression of the tracks west of Jefferson avenue, the viaducts would be impractical, Mr. Gerhart added a protest against the construction of a 60-foot viaduct at Compton avenue. He called attention to the fact that while the Board insists that a lesser width will not be sufficient at Compton avenue, its report favors a 56-foot viaduct at Chouteau avenue and the Missouri Pacific tracks.

"There are no cars passing over Compton avenue where the Board suggests a 60-foot viaduct," said Mr. Gerhart, "but at Chouteau avenue, where there are there lines of cars, and a very heavy traffic of other kinds, we are told that 56 feet is wide enough.

"In four places in the Board's report there are discussions as to how the Terminal Association is to get into the Ranken tract. That appears to give the Board more concern than does the permanent and satisfactory elimination of the grade crossing—the subject on which the report was written."

Schutz Declares Grades Vital.

In opening the hearing, Chairman Schutz declared that the ordinances for the abolition of grade crossings were more important than any other sort of legislation, because they were for the protection of life.

"I do not wonder," said Chairman Schutz, "that our citizens are urging the Assembly to proceed as quickly as possible. They see that the railroads are not doing anything in that direction. What little protection we have has been obtained at the expense of the city.

"The other day when this committee and President Reber of the Board of Public Improvements inspected these crossings we found ourselves wedged between trains on Compten avenue, although we had not approached the tracks until the gates were opened. It is really a wonder that more accidents do not occur there.

Will Keep Promises.

"I feel sure that if the officers of the railroads were to cross the tracks daily, as many a poor driver has to do, they would very quickly say to their stockholders: 'Something must be done by the railroads; we can't afford to take on our consciences the killing and mangling of human beings for the sake of a larger profit.'

"The promise in respect to grade crossings, exacted from candidates before last election will be kept, just as promises regarding the Free Bridge, hospitals and municipal buildings have been fulfilled."

MISSOURIAN WANTS NEW BILL FOR ONE EATEN BY "PUP DOG"

Only Four Small Scraps of $5 Note Left When Recovered by the Owner.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—An appeal has been received by Postmaster-General Hitchcock from a native of Missouri to repay him for the loss of a $5 note destroyed by a "young pup dog."

With the request, which had been duly sworn to before a notary, were four small pieces of the greenback which the dog failed to assimilate.

In the communication it is stated by the owner of the destroyed bill that "on Oct. 16, 1909, while he was entertaining and speaking to some friends a young pup dog which was in the same room got hold of the bill and chewed it up before it was noticed by the parties present and nothing but the inclosed parts were saved."

The right kind of a breakfast means a splendid day's work with head, heart and hand. Delicious Corn Flakes served with good milk or cream and the addition of some fruit makes the ideal breakfast.

LAWYER SHOOTS MARSHAL IN ROW ABOUT POLITICS

Anti-Incorporation Attorney Arrested After Clash of Factions in Wellston.

SALOON IS CLOSED

Mayor Woods Declares Place Is Headquarters for Administration's Enemies.

An X-ray examination was made Friday of the right arm and hip of John Hanson, a Wellston deputy marshal, in an effort to find two bullets fired by Theron Harris, attorney for the anti-incorporationists in the new town.

Unless blood poisoning sets in, Hanson will recover, his physicians say. He is a man of robust physique and weighs 200 pounds. Harris is small and lame. He walks with a cane.

The shot which shattered Hanson's elbow was fired from the hip through Harris' coat pocket in front of Justice Stobie's office at 6303 Easton avenue late Thursday afternoon. Harris drew his revolver and fired three other shots, two of which went wild. The first discharge set his pockets on fire.

Political bitterness because of the incorporation of Wellston led to the shooting. Harris was arrested. Wednesday after a quarrel with Hanson's walking partner, Deputy Marshal Kern, over advising a real estate client not to pay an overdue license. He was charged with resisting an officer and the case was set for Friday, but was continued.

Friend Held as Accessory.

The arrest greatly angered Harris. He was leaving George Conrades' saloon, adjoining Stobie's office, with William Lauman of 6309 Catalpa street when Hanson and Deputy Marshal William LaChasse passed. Hanson addressed some remark to Harris and passed on. As he left Harris began firing. Hanson's remark is said to have been: "You had better quit talking about me."

Harris was taken to Clayton and gave $5000 bond. Hanson was taken in an automobile to Mayor Woods' home, and spent the night there. Mayor Woods caused the arrest of Lauman as an accessory to the shooting. G. H. Foree, leader of the anti-incorporation forces, also was arrested, but was released for lack of evidence.

Soon after the shooting Woods commanded Conrades to close his saloon, but at 9 p. m. he allowed it to be opened and said he would issue a call Friday to the City Council to consider revocation of the license.

Formerly Harris lived in Ferguson, but he moved recently to Wellston. He declined to discuss the shooting.

Foree said Friday that Conrades' saloon was not headquarters of the anti-incorporationists, as charged by Woods, and that to close it would be an injustice. He said Harris told him Wednesday Hanson had threatened him.

"He told me he was afraid to stay in Wellston on account of Hanson," Foree said. "There's no law and order for anti-incorporationists out here, and a man has to defend himself by physical force."

Surkamp & Givans, the real estate men, whose license indirectly contributed to the shooting, paid it Friday. It was $25.50.

MORET, SPAIN'S NEW PREMIER, IS CLERICAL'S FOE

Feeling Varies Over Downfall of Maura, Many Predicting Era of Peace.

By Associated Press.

MADRID, Oct. 22.—The fall of Premier Maura and the Conservative Cabinet has produced a feeling of relief and encourages the hope that a period of internal tranquility has been ushered in. It is now an open secret that Maura's refusal to give King Alfonso an opportunity to pardon Ferrer is regretted by His Majesty.

Most of the Republican Senators and deputies express themselves as satisfied with the latest turn of events, particularly as they believe it marks the end of clerical influence with the Government. One of these said today:

"The new Cabinet contains elements openly anti-clerical, and thus it becomes possible to establish an anti-clerical policy so necessary to Spain."

However, radical members of the Cortes, like Deputy Seriano, who is also editor of Espana Nueva, announce an intention to fight the new Liberal ministry because of its alleged monarchial tendencies.

They predict a series of swift changes bringing about a situation like that begun with the insurrection in the fleet in 1868, and culminated in 1873, with the abdication of King Amadeus, and the establishment of a short-lived republic.

After Premier Antonio Maura and every member of the Conservative Cabinet had resigned yesterday, Moret, the Liberal leader, formed a Cabinet, in which he is at once Premier and Interior Minister. The new ministers, who took the oath of office last night, are: Premier and Interior Minister, Moret y Prendergast; Foreign Affairs, Perez Caballero; Finance, Senor Alvardo; War Lieutenant, Gen. de Luque; Marine, Rear Admiral Concas; Public Works, Senor Gasset; Public Instruction, Senor Barroso; Justice, Martines del Campo.

NICARAGUAN REBELS HAVE AN ARMY OF 2500 MEN

Chammoro, in Command of 800, With 500 More Will Attack Fortress.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 22.—Private advices received here under date of Oct. 16 from Bluefields, Nicaragua, state that the entire army of the revolution numbers 2500 men. It is declared that the position of Gen. Chammoro between El Castillo and Greytown is exceedingly strong and that he is in command of 800 men and several pieces of artillery.

With the reinforcement of 500 men, which have been started from Bluefields, he will begin his attack on the fortress of El Castillo, the advices say. The army under Gen. Estrada, 20 miles north of Panama City, is said to number 1500 men, and it is asserted that they are in full readiness to meet the Government troops.

Pulaski County Judge Dies.

EARTHSHOCKS AND ACTIVITY OF VESUVIUS CAUSE FEAR

American Predicted Disturbances in Italy and Looks for More This Month.

MESSINA, Oct. 22.—Earthshocks felt in the vicinity of Mount Etna yesterday coincide with the renewed activity of Mount Vesuvius and have caused much alarm here. The fact that such seismic disturbances had been predicted by Frank A. Perret, the American scientist, formerly assistant director of the Royal Observatory on Mount Vesuvius, does not lessen the uneasiness.

Mr. Perret was in this city during the last week of September, and at that time pointed out that Sept. 29 would be a date most favorable for earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, for the reason that at that time the sun, earth and moon would be in line, thus constituting a combination tending to produce a gravitational distortion of the earth's form.

Mr. Perret added that if nothing out of the ordinary occurred, as proved to be the case, it would mean that the earth had resisted the unusual pressure, but that telluric convulsions would likely be experienced in the latter half of October.

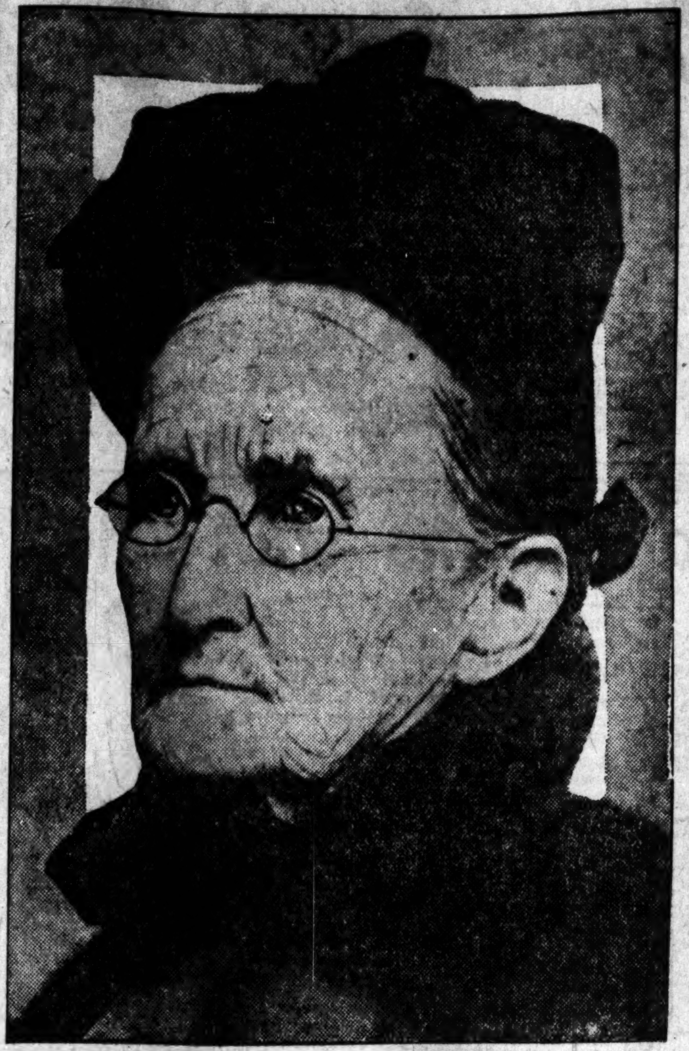
WOMAN, 93 YEARS OLD, AT HORSE SHOW FIRST TIME AND WANTS TO GO AGAIN

Mrs. Rebecca Hutchinson Declares She Had "Best Time in Life."

SORRY FOR THE LOSERS

Nonogenarian Believes Horses Enjoy Contest as Much as Human Beings.



MRS. REBECCA HUTCHINSON.

MRS. REBECCA HUTCHINSON of 5383A Wells avenue is 93 years old, and saw a horse show for the first time Thursday night. She was the guest of the Post-Dispatch. It also was her first visit to the Coliseum, and it is safe to say that of the thousands at the Horse Show none enjoyed it more than Mrs. Hutchinson.

With her granddaughter, the latter's husband, and a representative of the Post-Dispatch, Mrs. Hutchinson occupied a center box, and not a horse, man or woman entering the arena escaped her eye and comment.

Mrs. Hutchinson was born in Rockville, near Philadelphia, and came West in 1833. Her home is in Jerseyville, Ill., but she is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Virginia Smith, of 5383 Wells avenue. She is the mother of J. L. Hutchinson of New York, retired showman, and friend of President Taft. Mr. Hutchinson for many years was associated in the management of the Barnum & Bailey show, and played golf last winter with President Taft at Augusta, Ga.

It was 76 years ago that Mrs. Hutchinson first saw St. Louis, and her recollections and reminiscences of old St. Louis are vivid and interesting.

After the last class had been judged, Mrs. Hutchinson gave her impressions of the Horse Show to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

BY MRS. REBECCA HUTCHINSON.

THIS was the first Horse Show I ever saw in my 93 years of life, and my chief regret now is that I never attended one before. To use a modern phrase, the show was great. Here it is Thursday night, with only two more nights left, and I have let the whole week slip by without seeing the Horse Show. I want to go the rest of the week and wish I had gone every night. I certainly will take in every horse show that comes my way the rest of my life.

Believes Horses Enjoy It.

It is true that the horses are on show for money, but in a gentle way. They are just as eager to win the ribbons as their owners and drivers.

I will venture to say that none of the human beings enjoyed the show any more, and possibly not as much, as the horses themselves.

All the animals appeared so alert and enthusiastic. Their drivers apparently had to urge them not at all to do their best. I am a great lover of horses and believe in their intelligence. I think that there was not a horse in the ring tonight which did not know just what it all meant, that did not strive to outshine his rivals, and which did not fully appreciate it when he won, and feel badly when he lost.

I feel sincerely sorry for the horses who won no ribbons, so much so that this was my one somber feeling of the evening.

The wonder of it all is, where did so many horses come from, and how did they train them to act so beautifully and answer so readily to control? The horses were the most beautiful I have ever seen.

People on Show, Also.

When I was a young woman and knew about horses, we had them only for working purposes. We used them to haul our loads and to carry us about the country. All horses were working horses. Now, it seems, there are aristocratic and blue-blooded horses, kept only for show. They are very interesting.

One thing, however, struck me forcibly. It seemed to be more of a people show than a horse show, at least to a part of the audience. The men who stood about the rail seemed to be real horsemen, who were interested in the exhibition, but the people in the boxes seemed more interested in themselves and each other than in the horses. They all had on their best clothes and seemed to want everybody to know it.

It seems funny to me that I am such a good judge of horses, in view of the fact that this was my very first horse show. I mean that I picked the winner in almost every class, though I know none of the points by which the judges made their awards. When the horses first entered the ring I made a mental note of my favorite, and I was right in almost every instance.

"Best Time of Her Life."

The men who drove the horses and the attendants in the ring knew their business so well that I believe they mesmerized the animals. I saw several horses rear and pitch a little, but when the men rubbed their noses and talked to them, they quieted down at once. It is apparent that they exercised a mental spell. That is the only way to handle a horse. That is the way they did when I was young.

I have had the most fun and the best time of my 93 years at this horse show. I can find no words with which to express my thanks and gratitude to the Post-Dispatch for the pleasant time I have had.

BLOOD WAS THIN AFTER AN ATTACK OF THE GRIP

Tonic Treatment Is Necessary After the Acute Stage of the Disease Is Past Before the Health Can Be Fully Restored.

A single attack of the grip may mean a lifetime of misery if proper precautions are not taken to restore the blood and drive out the lingering poisons that cause the so-called "after-effects" of the disease.

The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy pray to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption.

Mrs. John Jorissen of North St. Paul, Minn., advises sufferers from the after-effects of the grip to build up their blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In her case the pills gave her lasting benefit. She says:

"Some years ago I had a hard attack of the grip and I was in poor health for a long time. My blood was thin and poor and I was as white as a sheet. My appetite was entirely gone and my stomach was out of order. I had severe dizzy spells in the morning, which so upset me that I could only drag myself around for the rest of the day. I could not get much rest and would be as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was not able to walk up a flight of stairs without dropping from exhaustion.

"I was treated by two doctors without gaining any relief. They said I was all run down and was suffering from a lack of blood. I found no relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a few weeks I could see great improvement and took the pills until entirely cured. I have not been sick since and shall never fail to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured such diseases as anaemia, rheumatism, nervous debility, neuralgia and St. Vitus' dance. They are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, New York.

RICH WOMEN'S SCORN MAKES SERVANTS "WHITE SLAVES," WOMAN LAWYER BELIEVES

More Considerateness Toward Domestics Would Lessen Present Evils, She Declares,

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

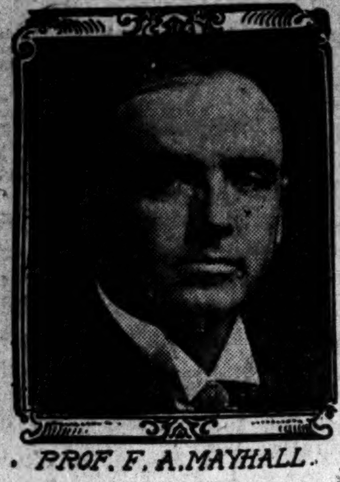
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCullough, lawyer and Justice of the Peace, told the Federation of Women's Clubs last night that it was the rich woman who had much to do with driving girls to lives of shame.

At the same time she criticized men for not allowing women to vote, so that they could prevent "white slavery."

"Society women have much to do with causing the downfall of girls," said Mrs. McCullough. "They pay poor wages, make their maids and domestics work long hours, and not always pleasant to them and frequently do not give them pleasant surroundings. Little wonder if the girls so treated become white slaves. They want life and are not always able to judge between good and bad. Our society women could do much toward stamping out the white slave traffic if they would be more considerate toward their servants."

Members of the women's clubs devoted an entire afternoon to an intimate study of the white slave traffic in Chicago and elsewhere, set forth by Mrs. W. I. Thomas, wife of Prof. Thomas of the University of Chicago, and Clifford G. Roe, who is now engaged by a secret order of business men to aid in stamping out the traffic in Chicago.

HE PRACTICED LAW AND ALSO PREACHED



PROF. F. A. MAYHALL.

—Strauss Photo.

HAS COMBINED LAW PRACTICE AND PREACHING

The Rev. Mr. Mayhall Finds Nothing Incompatible in Two Professions.

HAS QUIT THE PULPIT

Expects to Resume Ministerial Work Without Dropping Court Work.

The Rev. Frederick A. Mayhall does not agree with Eli F. Cunningham of Clayton that the practice of law is incompatible with Christian living, and that every lawyer has to be a liar to succeed. For four years he has been not only living Christianity but preaching it, and practicing law at the same time. Instead of giving up his law practice, he has seen fit to give up his preaching for a while, in order to give more of his time to his law. Later on, he will resume his preaching, but expects to practice law six days a week and preach the gospel only one day a week.

The Rev. Mr. Mayhall, who prefers to be called plain Mister, says there is no difficulty at all about a preacher being a lawyer at the same time and not much difficulty about a lawyer being a preacher at the same time. He thinks justice can be done both to the practicing and the preaching if the preacher cuts out foolish pastoral calls and puts in all the spare time he has from his law practice in thinking up things to say in his sermons.

Mr. Mayhall has been preaching and practicing law since 1905, when he took a degree at Washington University. During the greater part of that time he has been pastor of the Maplewood Christian Church and has maintained a downtown law office. He has now resigned his ministerial position and will for a time devote himself exclusively to the practice of the law, but expects before long to take up pulpit work in the downtown section, supporting himself in great part from his practice of law and not depending upon his congregation for a livelihood.

Likes Both Professions.

He likes both professions so well that he is not willing to make a choice between them. When he was asked which he liked best, he said: "Both. I like best to preach on Sunday and to practice law on week days."

He thinks all preachers should know something about the law.

"I believe," he said, "that all theological colleges should teach something about law as it applies to evidence, contracts, negotiable paper and so on. Every minister has so much business to transact in connection with his church that such knowledge would be of great value to him. I believe I am a better preacher for being a lawyer and a better lawyer for being a preacher.

"There is no good reason why a lawyer cannot take care of the duties of the ministry, so far as the pulpit work is concerned, but, of course, he cannot make a lot of pastoral calls. Pastoral calls are foolish. A preacher ought to put in his time thinking instead of running around calling on the members of his church so that he would have something to say on Sunday.

"A preacher cannot be making pastoral calls and talking about Johnnie and Willie and at the same time do any serious thinking. The preacher makes a mistake who makes 700 calls a month and preaches only one real sermon a month."

Successful as a Minister.

Mr. Mayhall has been an ordained minister since 1894. He has been pastor of churches at Vandalia, Ill., and Louisiana, Mo., and of the Hamilton avenue and Maplewood Christian churches here. When he took charge of the Hamilton avenue church it was $3000 in debt. He pulled it out of its financial quagmire. The Maplewood church had a mortgage on it when he went there. Sunday a week ago there was a celebration and the mortgage was burned. The congregation increased from 100 to 400.

As a lawyer he takes both civil and criminal cases. He says he would not go into a case in defense of anything that was morally wrong. He never takes divorce cases. He thinks that in some instances divorce is justifiable, but he prefers not to have any of that kind of practice.

The Rev. Thomas A. Minyard, until recently pastor of the First Christian Church of Jonesboro, Ark., has been selected to fill the vacancy at the Maplewood church, and has entered upon his duties. He is drawing crowds and a revival is to be started soon.

ACQUITTED OF ALLEGED CRIME THAT CAUSED MAN'S SUICIDE

After four hours' deliberation, a jury in Circuit Judge McElhinney's court at Clayton Thursday night acquitted Henry Fey on a charge of attacking his niece, Alma Luedloff, 14 years old. Fey is 24. Both live on farms four miles west of Clayton.

The girl testified that the alleged crime was committed Oct. 1, 1907, and that she told her father, John Luedloff, some time later. Luedloff, on the advice of his pastor, the Rev. Carl Zoellner of a German Evangelical Lutheran country church, declined to prosecute Fey, in order to avoid a church and family scandal.

Nearly a year later Luedloff committed suicide, leaving a letter in which he said Fey's relations with his daughter caused his act. Fey was arrested at once and has been in the Clayton jail ever since. On the witness stand Fey swore to an alibi.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

URGES DE LESSEPS', NOT T. R.'S, MONUMENT FOR PANAMA CANAL

Burton Holmes Startles His Audience by Suggestion, but Wins Its Approval.

The lecturer, Burton Holmes, launched a great question at the Odeon Thursday night.

Whose monument is to guard the Panama Canal?

Ferdinand De Lesseps', says Mr. Holmes.

It startled his audience—mostly made up of persons who had taken it for granted that Mr. Roosevelt was to have this honor, or that his monument was to guard one end of it and Mr. Taft's the other.

There was a brief impression that the lecturer was joking—but he wasn't. He permitted the house to see De Lesseps' monument on the Suez Canal for some time, as if to let it soak in for the purpose of future comparison with a probably monument of a fat man for canal purposes, or a man showing his teeth at one end of a canal, as if he had bitten that part of it out.

It was very adroit in Mr. Holmes, for the De Lesseps monument is very beautiful, and all is well along the Suez from the point of view of art.

To judge by the Holmes pictures, Egypt is not anything like so near dying as she was when the poem was written. She has as many irrigation projects as Arizona, New Mexico, or any of the other considerable areas of hot sand, and Mr. Holmes found her happy and prosperous—a splendid testimonial to the wisdom and helpfulness of British colonial rule.

Explorer Holmes and his two Eskimos will return next Thursday and submit records and proofs of the discovery of Sicily.

AEROPLANE FOR WAR AND SPORT; NOT BUSINESS

—ORVILLE WRIGHT

Noted American Aviator Says Flying Machines Won't Supersede Locomotives.

COULD FLY 500 MILES

Sees Possibility Someone May Cross Ocean, but What Would Be the Use?

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1909, by Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Orville Wright outlined to the Post-Dispatch correspondent today in an authorized interview, his views on the subject of mechanical flight, discussing the present problems of aviation and giving his opinion of its future development.

Departing from the silence and reserve usually maintained by him and by his brother, Wilbur, Orville talked freely.

When the New York World and Post-Dispatch correspondent found Mr. Wright at his hotel he was filled with enthusiasm over Count de Lambert's flight over Paris, a feat which continued to be the subject of conversation later during an automobile ride in the Bois de Boulogne.

"It was a magnificent achievement," said Mr. Wright, "and it is in every way worthy of the high praise it has received. Count de Lambert has received only his due, for he is one of the mose skillful of pilots. He possesses the finer quality of not being a daredevil, always exercising care and prudence.

Short Turns Dangerous.

"He was sure of his motor, and knew it was working perfectly. He knew also that from the height he maintained he could plane down safely if the motor stopped. It was a splendid thing to do, and has naturally caught the attention of the public. But Count de Lambert often performs much more difficult and dangerous feats."

"What, for instance?" the correspondent inquired.

"Turning quickly in short space," Mr. Wright answered without hesitation. "That is much more dangerous than flying across the country. The danger in the flight over Paris was that the machine might be forced to come down and, in planing for a landing place, descend on the heads of a crowd and hurt someone. I told Lambert at the time that I hoped attempts to fly over cities would be abandoned. If they are not, some accident will arouse the public, and laws will be passed and police regulations made restricting flying to certain places. Then anyone who wishes to fly in an aeroplane will have to go to an aerodrome, and half the sport of flying will be lost.

"Personally I am opposed to these spectacular exhibitions. Nothing more remains to be done in that line. All necessary records have been made. It has been shown what can be done in cross-country, cross-city and cross-channel flying. I hope now aviators will be content."

"But can't you go faster?"

"Yes, but it's much more difficult to go slow than to go fast. We can go much faster and"—he added, revealing with a shake of his head one of the plans of the Wright brothers—"we will go faster. We will soon build a machine for speed, to be used with our present motor, to show what can be done."

"How many passengers do you calculate you could carry?"

"We have carried two, and it would be easy to carry more. But there is nothing to be gained by it."

"Could an aeroplane be built that could carry several persons, say six or eight, as the science is developed today?"

"Oh, yes, it could be done, but there is nothing to be gained by building such a machine. Aeroplanes will not take the place of trains."

Will Not Change Travel.

"Never?" was asked.

"Never, in my opinion," Mr. Wright answered with conviction. "I don't think there is any likelihood whatever of flying superceding present means of locomotion by rail and steamship, because it is too expensive and too dangerous."

Mr. Wright paused as if listening to the motor of an automobile which was missing fire, then he looked up in the air and said:

"A bird expends much more force in flying than animals do in walking on the earth. It is the same way with flying machines. In proportion to their weight, they require much greater power than it takes to draw a train along rails. An aeroplane might be cheaper to make a trip in than a special train chartered by one man, but for ordinary commercial use it cannot compete with the steam engine."

"How far can you fly in one of your present machines?" the correspondent asked.

Mr. Wright leaned his head to one side, like a bird listening, as he made another rapid calculation, then he answered:

"In Berlin I took up as a passenger a man who weighed 225 pounds. I had 75 pounds of gasoline on board. I could replace the weight of the man with gasoline, and that would give me 300 pounds of fuel. With that I could fly 500 miles."

"Is that the most that could be done in the aeroplane at the present time?"

"Oh, no. We could build a special machine capable of flying much further than that. We could carry twice that amount of fuel."

"Then could you fly twice as far?"

"I won't say that, but we could fly much further than 500 miles."

"Then do you foresee the day when an aeroplane will cross the ocean?"

"No," Mr. Wright emphatically answered. "It would be too dangerous, and there would be no use in doing it."

"Would the winds make it dangerous?"

"Not so much the winds as the fact that there is no place to land in case anything should go wrong. Some foolhardy person might try it and do it, but there would be no reason for making such a journey."

"Are you and your brother experimenting along lines of a hydroplane in an effort to get an aeroplane that will rise from the water?"

"Not now. We have already experimented along that line, but at present we are devoting our efforts to making a reliable aeroplane that will be useful for military purposes, especially for scouting. We wish to build a thoroughly reliable machine that will carry two men, one for operating the machine, the other for charting the country and reconnoitering. We have all we can do at present in working along these lines, and are not experimenting along other lines that at present are impractical, or for which we see no good use."

"Then you consider that the immediate development and use of the flying machine is in connection with war?"

"Yes, and in sport—a sport there's nothing that equals. It is far more exhilarating than automobile racing. I think there is a tremendous development for flying as a sport. I do not wish to pose, as you know. We do not like to talk much about the future; that will take care of itself. But I think flying will develop along several lines.

"I expect first to see a slump in popular enthusiasm, due to the disappointments and failures of machines to work properly. That was the way with automobiles at first. But later, I think, when the public gets more reliable aeroplane motors, this interest will be renewed, and it will become one of the most popular sports. The main thing is to get an aeroplane that will rise from unlevel ground. That is why we (the Wrights) use a starting derrick instead of wheels."

Dependable Proprietary Medicines

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for thirty years, and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

POLICE HUNT TWO MEN WHO TOOK 100 POUNDS OF SILVER

Trusted Employes of Express Company Get Away With $2800 Taken From Safe.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 22.—Police departments throughout the central west are aiding in the search for Percy Smith and S. Hamilton Gaston, employes of the American Express Co., who rifled the safe of $2800 sometime Thursday night.

In the money taken by the two men was a sack containing 100 pounds of silver. The two men were trusted employes.

A part of the stolen money was received on late trains from branch offices and reports of the office show that it was deposited in a safe by Smith, who knew the combination.

SHADOW OF NEW PARTY IS SEEN IN LABOR PLAN

Scheme Is to Call Union Convention of Unions in Middle West in 1911.

RESOLUTION FAVORED

Glass Blowers in Illinois Fail to Get Relief at the Convention.

Some Illinois politicians believe they see the shadow of a new national political party by the action of the convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor at Belleville in adopting President Wright's suggestion that a joint meeting of the State federations of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa be held in Springfield, Ill., in 1911, the year before the next presidential campaign.

This suggestion was made in President Wright's annual message to the convention and was concurred in by the convention on the recommendation of the committee on officers' reports. President Wright stated in his address that the purpose of the joint convention would be to make the people of the country understand that the labor unions would be together on propositions affecting their interests.

Commission Plan Advocated.

The commission plan of government was advocated in one resolution and reported on adversely by the resolutions committee. Inasmuch as the commission plan carries with it the initiative and referendum, many of the delegates were surprised that the committee made such a report.

Secretary E. N. Nockels of the resolutions committee explained that his committee was not familiar with the plan of the commission form of government and for that reason had reported adversely to invite discussion.

The resolution was referred back to the committee, with instructions to get some light on the subject and report again.

The only two resolutions introduced by a Belleville delegate met death in the committee by being reported adversely. William Yochum, a glassblower, was their author. One of these asked the convention to go on record as favoring the transformation of the American Federation of Labor into an industrial and political organization.

The other resolution provided that union men who are unable to obtain work at their own trade may transfer their membership to another union without the payment of the regular initiation fee. Many Belleville glassblowers have been out of work for more than a year, and they were especially interested in the passage of this resolution.

Resolution for Builders.

A resolution that was of especial importance to the building trades in Illinois provided that all international organizations affiliated with the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor should compel their local organizations throughout Illinois to join the building trades department councils in their respective localities.

The shortest resolution introduced provoked the most debate. Its author was Charles J. Ponsonby of the Teamsters of Chicago and provided that the convention place itself on record as favoring the enforcement of the law which provides that naturalized American labor be given preference and predominance over alien labor on all public work. The committee reported favorably on the resolution and in a moment pandemonium broke loose. There were objections from every part of the house.

Frank J. Hays, secretary of the State Mine Workers' organization said:

"If we do this thing we do what the ruling classes are doing. We want to eradicate the feeling of antagonism of one nationality against another nationality.

"Laboring men ought to be big enough to take in every man or woman who wants to better his or her condition in life. I do not believe in erecting a stone wall around labor."

Other talks of a like character were made, with the result that the resolution was recommitted to the committee.

Pilgrims Off for Chicago.

The English soccor football team, The Pilgrims, who have played and defeated several of the local soccer clubs, will leave for Chicago on the "Banner Limited," via the Wabash, Friday at 1:30 p. m. The Wabash has issued a very unique dining-car menu for the occasion. Several St. Louisans will accompany the Pilgrims to Chicago.

HEALER "SCHLATTER'S" TRUE IDENTITY REMAINS IN DOUBT

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 22.—Denver acquaintances will be called on to identify the body of the supposed Francis Schlatter, who died here, as the "divine healer" who 15 years ago made that city the mecca of the halt and the blind. A flashlight picture of the body was taken in the local morgue and was sent to Denver. A careful examination of the dead man's effects seems to bear out the statements Schlatter made before his death.

To Dr. E. . Weir, city physician, Schlatter protested that he was the original divine healer. J. W. Wallace a grocer, who was in Denver at the time Schlatter was drawing thousands by his cures, has viewed the body, and says this is the same man.

Prescription for Kidneys

Said to be the Best Ever Compounded for Kidney and Bladder Complaints.

Too much emphasis cannot be laid on care of the kidneys and bladder. Weak or inactive kidneys lead to most serious and complicated consequences, such as chronic rheumatism, diabetes or Bright's disease. For this reason, such symptoms as pain in the back, rheumatic pains in the joints, soreness in the groin or hip, dizziness, puffiness under the eyes, etc., should be attended to without delay. The following prescription is known to be highly endorsed by high medical authority: "One-half ounce Murax compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, six ounces good pure gin." These ingredients can be bought separately and mixed at home or any good druggist can put them up. For best results, take in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day, after meals. Taken in time, this treatment is the best obtainable. * * *

MAN SUING COMPANY GIVES SAME JOB TO TWO LAWYERS

Forgets Now Which One He Wants and as Result Suit Is Filed Twice.

Vlada Mirkov has more lawyers and lawsuits on his hands than he knows what to do with. Two suits have been filed in the Circuit Court by two lawyers, presumably on his authority, stating the same cause of action. One has been assigned to Judge Hitchcock's division, and one to Judge Fisher. Both are directed against the Polar Wave Ice and Fuel Co., for whom Taova Nijatov worked before his death from injuries. The company has filed motions in both courts asking that both cases be stricken from the files. Each suit is for $10,000.

Mirkov says he has power of attorney from the widow in Russia to bring the suit.

The motion was up in Judge Hitchcock's Court Friday, and Mirkov was called to testify. He at first refused to take the witness stand because it would elevate him to an equality with the Judge, which seemed to him very improper. When his scruples in this regard were overcome, he testified that he had talked to Attorneys Hans Wulff and Ben Reinberger, but did not know which one he had authorized to bring the suit. Judge Hitchcock took the motion under advisement.

I'd Like to See the Liver of a Fat Man

This is the expression of a medical man who said that the liver of a fat man must present a wonderful sight when that man is alive and performing his regular duties. The liver is the largest organ in the human body. The stomach calls on the liver and so does the blood. If the liver gives to the digestive apparatus improper juices then the digestion is wrong. This is what makes people fat. The liver is not right. On popular demand we have made the famous Marmola Prescription into Tablets which are eaten after meals just like food and they digest that food as it should be digested. They remove fat already accumulated at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day and leave no wrinkles or flabby skin. Carry one in your vest pocket or purse when you dine out and eat what you will. Fasting, diet and exercise will not reduce fat. You only starve the body and by tearing down other organs you bring the fat with the rest of the destruction. Marmola Tablets are sold by all druggists and in greater quantity than all the other so-called fat reducers combined. There must be merit in them or their sale could not be growing larger every month. Ask any druggist or if you prefer send 75 cents to The Marmola Company, Dept. 199, Detroit, Mich., and they will send you a large case of Marmola Tablets in plain package by mail.—Adv.

HARRISBURG, Ark., Oct. 22.—S. G. Stone killed the largest deer in the bay bottom. It weighed 253 pounds. It had 16 points on its horns, which were purchased by L. G. HOPE FOR ECZEMA PATIENTS.

D. D. D. Prescription Now Offered at 25 Cents—A Trial Will Convince.

The oil of wintergreen compound for eczema—known as D. D. D. Prescription—can be secured at present from Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and Chas. F. Merker, in a 25-cent bottle.

This offer is especially made to convince those skin sufferers who have not yet tried the remedy. One bottle will suffice to cure a mild case, and the first application will instantly prove to you that you get relief at once from the itch. The moment you wash the skin with this mild, soothing liquid, the itch is gone.

If—upon our special recommendation—you want to try a bottle of this proven eczema cure at 25 cents, telephone or call at our store.

"I never paid less than $40 for a suit of clothes."

—Men and young men used to make this boast.

—They don't any more, with a few scattering exceptions.

—They're getting clothes-educated.

—We've helped in the revolution.

—We're teaching men and young men that high prices don't necessarily make high class clothes any more than fine feathers make fine birds.

—We are supplanting imagination with cold, hard common sense.

—If we kept you waiting two weeks to fit your suit, you might imagine that it fit better, but it wouldn't.

—We might charge double our prices, but it wouldn't make the same clothes any better.

—We sell a suit for $16.50 that is tailored better than any $20 suit in town

—Men are buying it who "never paid less than $40 for a suit of clothes." They say it is great!

—And it is!

—We call it the "Edgemere." Ask for it. We make precious little profit on it, but we sell a big lot, looking for volume of small profits.

—We sell another line for $22. We call it "Lennox." It is tailored better than any $25 suit in town.

—We'll send home a selection of these—your selection. There you can compare them with clothes from other stores.

—And there'll be no salesman or triplicate mirrors to sway your mind one way or t'other.

—Try this scheme. It's a fine thing.

They Grow Hair

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined Stimulate Human Hair Growth

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Beta-naphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in St. Louis only at our store.—The Rexall Store. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., S. E. Cor. 6th St. and Washington Av.

MRS. KEPPEL PARTS LIPTON FROM THE KING

Piqued at Sir Thomas' Gallantry to Marie Corelli, She Complains to His Majesty.

BARONET ON OCEAN

Is Nearing New York on Errand to Get Modification of Yacht Race Rules.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The American today prints the following cablegram from its London correspondent:

"Sir Thomas Lipton, who arrives in New York tomorrow to ask for a modification of the rules governing contests for the America's cup, in order that he may challenge for the fourth time, does not carry the high hopes and favor of King Edward, which aided him in former years. This in no wise affects the feeling of the British public, which greatly admires Sir Thomas as a sportsman undismayed by three defeats. On the contrary, his popularity has increased since he announced his intention to try again for the much-coveted cup.

"It was the discriminating gallantry of Sir Thomas Lipton on an occasion when he was placed in an unenviable position—a story that has never before been told outside of the innermost court circles—which cost him the intimate friendship and support of the King in his yachting ventures.

"Two noted women—Marie Corelli, the novelist, and the Hon. Mrs. George Keppel, famous beauty, wit and intimate friend of King Edward and Queen Alexandra—placed Sir Thomas Lipton in the position of a modern Paris, and as the host of Miss Corelli, Sir Thomas made a decision in her favor. Mrs. Keppel learned of this and complained to the King, and from that moment Sir Thomas Lipton ceased to interest His Majesty.

No Open Rupture.

"There has been no open rupture—no hint in clubs or at court that Sir Thomas is persona non grata to the King—but whether in his present venture, without the support of the King, the King's Royal Ulster Yacht Club, under whose colors he formerly challenged will aid him in his attempt to gain a modification of the rules, or will intimate to the New York Yacht Club that Sir Thomas is acting alone, remains to be disclosed.

"Since the sailing of Sir Thomas it has been hinted about yachting clubs that he is seeking personal aggrandizement and is not a representative British sportsman. This insinuation is regarded as due to the King's indifferent attitude, as the history of the Irish baronet is one of a true sportsman, and his attempts to lift the America's cup has always been applauded and have aroused

"The incident which is responsible for the coldness of the King to the Irish sportsman occurred aboard the latter's yacht, the Erin, and had its opening chapter in the Solent two years ago."

Sir Thomas is a great admirer of Marie Corelli and when he heard she was broken down from overwork, he invited her to take a cruise on his yacht, the Erin. She accepted, but, after cruising a week, Sir Thomas received a dispatch from the King to proceed to Southampton and take aboard Mrs. George Keppel, whose health also needed recuperation. He proceeded to do so, but to his surprise Miss Corelli told him in that event she would get off at Southampton, as she would not meet Mrs. Keppel.

Put in Embarrassing Position.

This put Sir Thomas in an embarrassing position, but he considered his duty as host paramount and told Miss Corelli he would not go to Southampton, but would continue the cruise. Miss Corelli would not consent to his thus refusing a request from the King and Sir Thomas reluctantly proceeded to Southampton, where Miss Corelli left the boat an hour before Mrs. Keppel boarded it.

In the course of time, however, Mrs. Keppel heard of the incident and that Sir Thomas had proposed to turn down her for "a mere scribbler with old-fashioned ideas." Greatly incensed, she complained to the King, hence Sir Thomas lost his rank in the royal friendship. This is the story being whispered around and it is causing as much excitement as the Baccarat scandal.

ACTOR STRICKEN BLIND, GOES ON WITH HIS SONG

Not Until His Act Is Finished Does He Tell His Wife of His Affliction.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TORONTO, Ontario, Oct. 22.—Jules Kussell, an actor at the Majestic Music Hall, was suddenly stricken with total blindness last night without allowing his audience or other performers on the stage to know of his alarming condition.

Mr. Kussell is an elderly actor, the husband of Estelle Wordette, and appears in a one-act comedy lasting about twenty minutes. In his act Mr. Kussell sings a number of songs and has a long speaking part. His solo was about half through when, reeling slightly to one side, he passed his hands across his eyes as though to clear away some obstacle.

Only a trifling pain told him that the blackness before him was not the dimming of stage lights, but the sudden destruction of his own power of sight. A momentary lull in the song brought back his presence of mind and with an effort he smiled on the house and continued the broken melody.

Turning his sightless eyes toward his wife he bowed his compliments and through the several curtain calls laughingly thanked the audience for the favor. The instant the curtain fell for the last time, Kussell staggered toward the wings and was half carried to his dressing room by friends. Three doctors were called and during the whole of the night worked over the afflicted actor.

This morning it was announced that slight hope was held out for even partial recovery. The act was therefore cancelled from the week's bill. Mr. Kussell was determined to go on tonight with his eyes bandaged, but was prevented by his physician.

Kussell says he never had any serious disease which might have led to the present derangement, and doctors can give no explanation.

Constipation And Appendicitis

The Latter Usually Caused By The Former, Which, In Turn, Has Its Origin In Intestinal Indigestion.

Chronic constipation is a disease which is about as prevalent as dyspepsia and indigestion. Nearly every one suffers from it occasionally, but there are millions of people who endure it habitually, and who are accustomed to resort to the use of laxatives and cathartics daily.

Many people seemed to have developed a perfect mania for taking pills, and instead of trying to ascertain the latent cause of the disease, and removing it by appropriate treatment, they are content to continue the reckless use of laxatives, aperients, drastic cathartics and violent purgatives, until finally inflammation of the bowels occurs, which reaches the appendix, and the result is appendicitis.

In investigating and tracing the causative factors of constipation and its frequent sequel, appendicitis, it has been noted by physicians that the majority of cases were preceded and accompanied by a long-standing gastro-intestinal indigestion.

The idea that appendicitis is brought on by foreign bodies, such as seeds, etc., becoming lodged in the appendix, is an exploded theory. It is now definitely known that constipation is the most prolific cause of this dread disease, while the constipation itself is previously induced by intestinal indigestion, or amylaceous dyspepsia—the inability to digest starches—so the relation between cause and effect is readily seen and appreciated.

The absurdity of attempting to cure constipation by the use of physic should be apparent to every one. Laxative drugs and powerful purgatives will never cure a disease of this sort, and those who make frequent or regular use of them will, sooner or later, set up an inflammatory condition of the intestinal system.

A person with first-class digestion will never be annoyed with chronic constipation, and when this trouble does exist, instead of slugging the system with pills, liquid laxatives candy cathartics, etc., use a remedy which will cure the gastro-intestinal indigestion, and you will find that the constipation no longer bothers you, and with its removal, the risk of developing appendicitis will be reduced to the minimum.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS have been the means of curing numerous cases of constipation, by first curing the intestinal indigestion. They digest every kind of food, a single grain being capable of digesting 3000 grains of alimentum, and in addition to pepsin and other powerful digestives, they also contain diastase, which converts starch into sugar, and readily cures amylaceous dyspepsia and intestinal indigestion.

If you are suffering from dyspepsia, constipation, and, in fact, indigestion of any kind, don't run the risk of getting appendicitis, but strike at the root of the trouble—the original cause—by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which will quickly rid you of all functional disorders of the alimentary tract.

Secure a box of this digestive remedy from your druggist for 50c and send your name and address to the F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., for a free sample package.

The Best Holstein Milk Six Cents Per Quart

The housewife who buys Van Camp's by the case—in 10-cent cans—gets the best milk in America at about six cents per quart. Note the vast economy.

Most of the cost of milkman's milk lies in the cost of daily delivery. That's why Van Camp's undersells it.

But the economical way to buy Van Camp's is in the 10-cent cans. You get one-third more for your money than in any 5-cent cans.

And Van Camp's is cheapest when bought by the case. Ask your grocer to quote the case discount.

Pure Holstein Milk

Holstein cows are the result of 2,000 years of good breeding.

They are healthy cows with enormous vitality. And that vitality is conveyed to the milk.

Van Camp's is simply rich Holstein milk, with two-thirds the water evaporated.

It is not like condensed milk, which is nearly half sugar. Van Camp's is nothing but milk.

Our evaporating plants are located in six states, and all are close to our dairies.

The fresh milk is there placed in a vacuum. And a very moderate heat, because of that vacuum, throws off the water in steam.

Thus we eliminate two-thirds of the water, simply to reduce the bulk. Then the milk is sterilized. That's the only method used to preserve it.

Ten Cents per Pint

The tall 10-cent can of Van Camp's contains a full pint—sixteen ounces of evaporated milk.

This milk is 28 per cent solids—8 per cent butter fat. It is as thick as the thickest cream.

This pint can, when the water is replaced, gives about three pints of rich Holstein milk.

And that rich milk will cost you about 6 cents per quart, if you buy Van Camp's by the case.

For we save what the milkman spends to make daily deliveries. And we save two-thirds the cost of handling by taking out two-thirds the water.

A Cow in the Kitchen

Another advantage in Van Camp's Milk lies in having the cow in the kitchen.

Rich milk or cream whenever you want it. No waiting for the milkman, no running to the grocer.

Don't buy Van Camp's from day to day, as you would milkman's milk. Buy it by the case and get the case discount. And have the milk always on hand.

Van Camp's will keep for years, in the sealed can, as fresh as the day you buy it.

Serves Every Purpose

Van Camp's serves every purpose for which you use raw milk or cream. It is far better than raw milk for any.

It comes to you as thick as thick cream—so thick that you add one part water for coffee.

For use on cereals, reduce it one-half. For drinking, reduce it to suit the taste. The best way to reduce it, especially for babies, is to add hot water.

When Van Camp's is drunk cold, it has a slight almond flavor due to sterilization. It is a delicious flavor; and when one thinks that it means germless milk, the taste becomes doubly enticing.

That flavor is lost when the milk is heated, for the flavor comes from heat. The flavor of Van Camp's, when used for cooking or coffee, is exactly the same as raw milk or cream, save for additional richness.

Best for Cooking

In the making of milk dishes, Van Camp's Milk is twice as good as raw milk.

The reason is this: In milkman's milk you rarely get the whole milk. The butter fat rises and the solids fall, so you get a different milk from each part of the can.

When you skim this milk, as is often done in cooking, you take out most of the butter fat left. So the raw milk used in making milk dishes is rarely more than a half-milk.

In Van Camp's you get the whole milk—all the butter fat and all the solids of the richest Holstein milk.

Thus it gives to milk dishes a richness and flavor which one never can get without it. Just prove this once, in a single milk dish, and you'll never go back to raw milk.

300,000 Cans per Day

People are now using about 300,000 cans of Van Camp's per day—a hundred million cans per year.

Every day we milk about 25,000 cows.

You will know the reason if you compare Van Camp's with any other evaporated milk. Every can of Van Camp's is 28 per cent butter fat and solids, yet it costs no more than the poorest.

Van Camp's is sold in 5 and 10-cent cans—at your grocer's. We recommend the 10-cent cans for your economy. It is put up at our dairies in six states by the Van Camp Packing Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

BABY RESTLESS AND SUFFERING

With Severe Eczema—Spread from Face All Over Scalp—Developed Into a Solid Scab and Her Ears Seemed Ready to Come Off.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My baby suffered about three weeks and she was in a very bad condition. The eczema commenced on her face and spread all over the scalp. It was a solid scab and sore, and her little ears looked as though they would come off. She was very fretful and could rest but very little. She would rub her little ears and head much of the time. She looked awfully bad. We then heard of the Cuticura Remedies and I bought some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and I decided to give them a trial. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. At the time I commenced to use the Cuticura Remedies she was in a very bad fix. I began the treatment by bathing with Cuticura Soap three times a day and also used Cuticura Ointment after each bath, and it was but a few days before we began to find out she was improving. She continued to improve and in about three weeks she was entirely cured and has not been troubled with any skin disease since. She was at that time about three months old and she is now three years and two months and is a fine, fat baby girl. I will gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one who is suffering from that terrible disease and I give to Cuticura many thanks. I will gladly tell of her cure to any one who will ask or write about it. Mrs. M. M. Reynolds, Box 40, R. F. D. 2, Windsor, Va., Oct. 20 and Nov. 6, 1908."

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

The beef packers would have us believe that the high price of their various products is due to the scarcity of raw material. The beef growers assert that more cattle are not raised because the price is too low. The packers say the cost to them is high and add that the cost of feeding is high. The growers assert that there is no money in the business.

How are we to reconcile these conflicting statements? Are we to believe the beef packers or the cattle raisers? We know, however, that the cattle raisers receive for their product what the packers choose to pay. We know that the consumers pay for meat what the packers choose to ask. It is unnecessary to investigate farther. The difference between the low prices at one end and the high prices at the other explains why the packers are rich and growing richer.

It might be added that while the cost of all foodstuffs is high and still advancing, particular stress in the tabulating of prices always falls on the articles controlled by the packers—on poultry, eggs, butter, which are stored in their cold plants, and fruits which are shipped in their refrigerator cars. But we have frequent official assurances that there is no Beef Trust.

As a test for the suffragettes Marie Corelli suggests that they hire and equip a hall, handle for three years the same subjects dealt with by members of Parliament and if, "during that period they are guiltless of any violent, clap-trap orations, endure all night sittings, etc.," let them vote. And if the men had to meet such a test they would never have a vote either.

PROSPECTIVE TARIFF WARS.

Reports from Washington promise the exclusion of French products from our ports until the maximum rates of the Payne law may be imposed after March 31 next. The reason given for the probable exclusion is "unjust discrimination" by France against us.

This is a sorry statement of the case. We have deliberately abused French confidence. We abrogated a reciprocal understanding summarily and added insult to injury by fixing higher rates on articles which we buy only from France. Theoretically, perhaps, we have not discriminated against France. Other nations sending us the same goods would meet the same rates. Practically, however, it is discrimination because we selected for extravagantly increased duties particular articles which France sends us and which we neither get nor can get elsewhere. France is privileged to talk about unjust discrimination. We are not.

With trade wars in immediate prospect with France and Canada and in ultimate prospect with other nations the soul of the standpatter should glow with joy. Exclusion of foreign goods has been his cherished hope. The idea of protection had as little part as the idea of revenue in the fixing of the rates on a hundred articles in the new tariff. Both ideas were abandoned to secure rates which would curtail or prohibit importation. Senator Smoot ingenuously explained that the rates on some steel products were raised because they were imported in too great quantities.

What the rate fixed in the tariff won't do the imposition of the 25 per cent "maximum" will. Prospective tariff wars will become real because the standpatters are deliberately inviting them. It is their policy. They tortured the "maximum and minimum" idea into a form that will aid them. They will never rest until our ports are closed to foreign products and our foreign trade is dead or until they have been driven from power and sanity reigns again.

ATTACKS MEAT INSPECTION SYSTEM.

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Kalamazoo, Mich., speaking before the American Public Health Association in Richmond, Va., charged the Department of Agriculture with incompetency and with violating its own rules in regard to the inspection of meat. The public, she declared, had been misled into the belief that the meat inspection system was devised for the benefit of the consumer. She bolstered her charges with so many facts that the convention considered the case in executive session.

The case against the meat inspection system broadens. Inefficiency seems not to be confined to the St. Louis district. The possibilities of continued abuse are small because municipal health officials are a check on the work of the Government inspectors, but there is no doubt of serious abuses. Apparently the investigation should not be confined to a single district. And it should not be delayed.

THE TERMINAL'S FALSE PLEA.

The Terminal Railway's defense of the coal and passenger arbitraries is based upon the exploded fiction of an independent terminal and bridge company which must have an independent revenue in order to support its operation. There may be a reason for a small charge to haul coal when the greater haul is on the terminal lines or when the initial lines do not belong to the association, but there is none for the passenger arbitrary.

The Terminal pleads that it costs $3 to haul a passenger car over the bridge and that this justifies the charge of 25 cents a passenger. It costs to haul passenger cars over any bridge, but the railroads owning bridges do not make special charges for such hauls. They absorb the cost in the general revenue. The bridges here belong to all the railroads in the association. For that reason they are the cheapest bridges in the country. They are parts of the lines of all the owning railroads. These railroads should include the expense of their bridges and terminals here in their general expenses and defray it out of their general revenues. All the charges of the St. Louis terminals should be absorbed and borne by the general traffic as the terminal charges of all railroads elsewhere are.

This is clear to any intelligent man who analyzes our terminal situation. Union terminals mean terminals jointly owned by the roads and should be supported by the joint contributions of the roads. The Municipal Commission accepted this view of the local terminals and bridges in its report. It was accepted by the railroads when they eliminated the arbitraries outside of the 100-mile radius. It is accepted on traffic passing through St. Louis. It ought to be accepted and applied to all traffic.

The municipal officers are right in asking for the abolition of all tolls, arbitraries, differentials now charged on account of our bridges and terminals. They are the common bridge and terminals of all the roads which use them. It is to be hoped that the administration will stand to its guns on this question.

No privileges without fair concessions.

FIGHTING PUBLIC OPINION.

The resignation of Premier Maura and his colleagues is a welcome assurance that there is a public opinion, even in Spain, with enough intelligence, character and organization to make it a force to be reckoned with. At the time of the trial and execution the Prime Minister affected great contempt for this sentiment, and it was given out that the King had firmly opposed all suggestion of mercy. They seemed to think the councils of the radicals were so divided and enfeebled by the loss of their leader that they might do as they pleased and get high credit for firm and resolute statesmanship. To the public opinion of the world, apparently, they gave not a thought. It is another tune they are singing now. It appears that the King opposed the execution, but was overpowered by Maura's stronger will. The facts of the palace intrigue are not important. Maura's precipitate flight before the appointment of a successor was a confession of panic fear.

It ought to be a lesson to all governments, even our own. The world would have been in the mire of barbarism today had not new ideas found lodgment from time to time in the minds of men brave enough to speak out and teach the faith that is in them. It is in just this appearance, diffusion and adoption of new ideas that progress consists. And it ought to be known to the stupidest politician of Spain or Russia that progress cannot be stayed by the force of conservative or selfish interests. Sooner or later mankind moves forward.

Considering the facts, past and present, wise statesmanship will not attempt to extirpate new doctrines and kill the leaders. Rather will a wise man in authority permit the largest freedom of speech and teaching. He will think of punishing only when the liberty is abused and will never dream of extirpating the doctrines themselves. If they are vital and needed at this particular juncture he cannot destroy them, however severe his measures of repression may be. If they are not true and vital, or if they answer no human need at this stage of social development they will die of themselves. Gamaliel stated this fundamental principle of statesmanship 1900 years ago.

TO ENTERTAIN OR TO BORE.

Mr. J. E. Dodson tells us that the mission of the stage is to entertain, not to instruct. Quite true; but a better statement of the problem is that the mission of the stage is to entertain, not to bore.

It is doubtful if any true work of art, whether it be a stage play or a marble statue, is ever destitute of instruction. The plays of Sophocles and Aristophanes were rich in instruction to the Athenians of their day. But they succeeded because they were written to please, the pleasure being the natural delight felt in every human heart when a true thing is presented in a form befitting the truth.

All successful writers of plays have aimed primarily, if not solely, at entertainment. And instruction cannot but be shed from these entertaining shows. The great dramatists, Sophocles, Aristophanes, Shakspeare, Moliere, Ibsen, Shaw, have all been great instructors, not because they went about to teach, but because any expression of great genius cannot but contain and convey a message of truth and life.

The fault is in the minds of people who write teachy, preachy plays for the sake of the teaching and preaching. Such persons have no vocation for art. And their pretensions do no more than bore a world weary of waiting for real and true entertainment—entertainment fitted to the understanding of people who know something of what is real and true and whose experience enables them to perceive and appreciate the artist's worth.

Ibsen was the pioneer in this movement to meet an intelligent demand. His plays are thrillingly interesting and entertaining for all whose minds are not full of prejudice, and they are loaded with instruction which the playgoer can accept or reject. But it is safe to say he will never be bored. This can be said of many of the modern playwrights of Europe and America who follow and reflect the light they see, instead of telling about the light they think the world ought to see.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Teach Better; Get Less Pay.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will you kindly call the attention of the Board of Education to the fact that Mrs. Ella Flagg Young's criticism of St. Louis was that her schools were better and her teachers paid less than those of Chicago? If I were to do so I would get what is classically termed a punch in the nose, figuratively speaking, but I appeal to you, because I believe the editorial nose is immune.

A ST. LOUIS PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHER.

Cannibal Faces.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read in the Post-Dispatch Sunday Magazine that cannibal faces show no signs of guilt. Of course not. Look at our own meat-eating habits. We actually raise animals to slaughter. I need not mention the cruelties practiced. A Japanese general, accustomed to the horrors of war, fainted in a Chicago slaughter house. And what butcher has sometimes not hesitated to kill the gentle and harmless sheep? Habit almost does away with conscience. In a future existence conscience may waken. Surely we shall then despise ourselves. NEAR CANNIBAL.

"To the Front" of the Car.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The writer has observed recently quite a degree of selfishness and an utter disregard for others as shown by some of those who are forced to stand while riding on street cars in St. Louis. It seems to be a natural instinct with some people after passing the conductor's cage to stand as near to the rear door of the car as possible instead of moving to the front and giving others who may wish to get on a chance to do so. During the Thursday of Centennial week in returning from the aeroplane flights this selfishness was quite evident, some of the cars having two or three persons standing in the front end while at the rear thousands were clamoring to get on. The writer would like to hear from others on this subject through these columns. In future let us think of others besides ourselves and as the P-A-Y-E cars force us to board the cars at one end, if we have to stand, let us proceed immediately.

TO THE FRONT.

Cause of Spain's Trouble.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In your issue of Oct. 18 you published a letter over the signature of H., applauding the judicial assassination (I will not call it execution) of Francesco Ferrer. The writer thereof is either prejudiced or grossly ignorant of the real facts. He says "the fight with the Moors, so far as the outside world could judge, was a necessary one" when, in fact, the contrary is the case. Briefly stated, the real cause of the war is this: A few Spanish capitalists had secured, for a trifling consideration, a mining concession on the Riff Coast from the Moorish pretender, Mulai Hafid. When the pretender was overthrown the real Sultan, very properly, repudiated this concession. The high-minded, patriotic Spanish gentlemen holding this questionable concession, preferring to plunge their nation into a costly and bloody war rather than lose the few paltry dollars they had expended, appealed to their Government and the war was the result.

The people of Spain protested against a war in which they must bear the entire burden of blood and treasure, a war that would profit only a few capitalists, and in which the national honor was not at stake. The rioting at Barcelona was the culmination of this protest. They could hardly have made their protest effective in any other way. Our forefathers protested, too, and petitioned King George and the British Parliament until they were black in the face, and their protests and petitions were ignored. The "protests" they made at Lexington, Bunker Hill, Saratoga and Yorktown were vastly more effective.

The subjects of Louis the XVI presented petition after petition to their King, praying for relief from unjust laws and oppressive taxation, but with no effect. "Louis XVI waited until 1793 and gave his head and all his investitures to the people, who in 1789 asked only to sit at his feet and speak their mind." And history repeats itself.

Democratic State Committee.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Just a few words concerning the meetings held and others proposed by the Democratic State Committee, the object being to harmonize all hostile factions. So far as the atmosphere was unfavorable, the clouds in the political horizon assumed a threatening appearance, floating to and fro as if blown by an uncertain wind. Therefore, the committee met and adjourned without doing any business. Good, there was no business to transact, anyhow. And if it is the intention of the committee, at its next meeting in January, to issue a proclamation stating who shall be the party's choice for United States Senator, it would be well to call that meeting off, too, and adjourn until after the 1910 election.

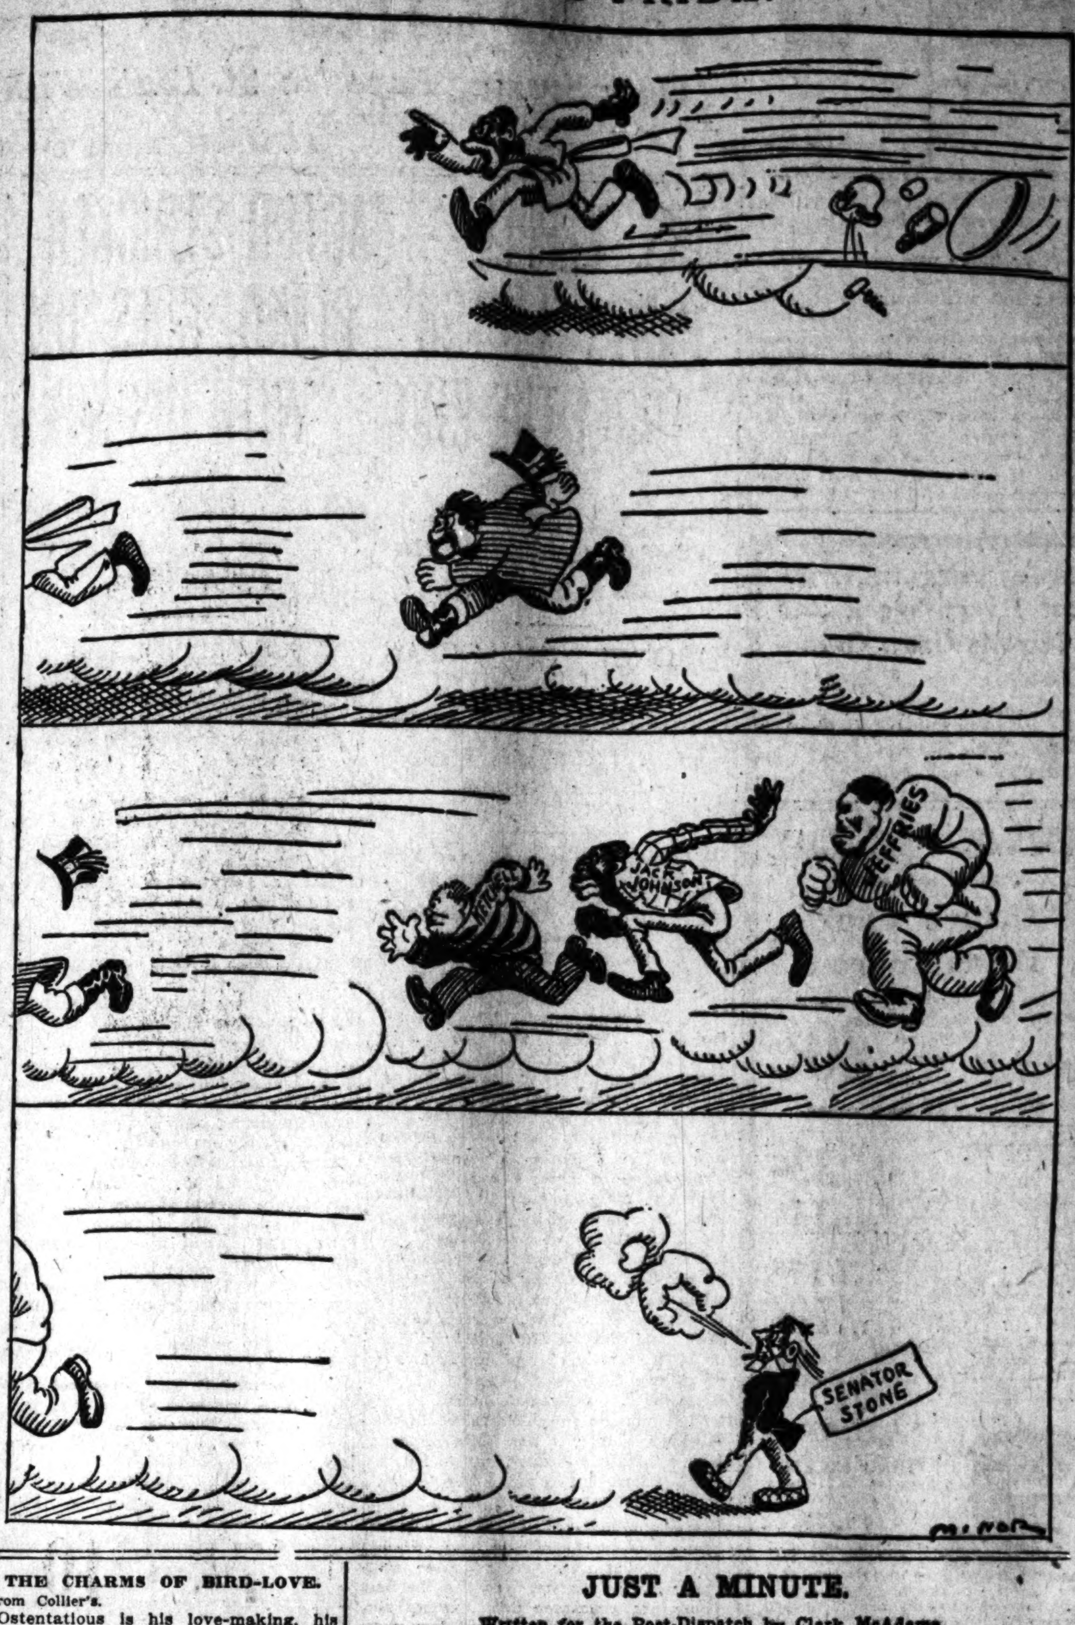
What right has the committee to say who shall, or shall not, be a candidate for United States Senator? The committee is not the whole party. Under the State primary law we now have the party voters have the right to choose their Senator, not a few politicians. The day is past when a half dozen committeemen, caucusing in a back room, can select the candidates. Shouting the names of Jefferson and Jackson, and appealing to the boys to "whoop 'em up," is no argument, and does not interest the sensible voters, and we have a lot of them in Missouri.

To fix the slate and force it through, like it was done in the primary of 1908, when Hon. David A. Ball was cheated out of the nomination for Governor, and thereby many thousands of voters disfranchised, is enough to disgust the party voters. That notorious steal has not yet been forgotten. Any organization which tries to justify such crimes must suffer defeat as a just punishment.

If the committee really wants to serve a useful purpose it should exert its influence toward an honest primary and let the rank and file select the nominees. If Messrs. Folk, Francis, Reed and others want to run for Senator, give them all a chance, and the man who gets enough votes, honestly counted, to entitle him to the nomination, should get it. Every candidate, whatever nomination he seeks, should be given credit for every vote cast for him. This done, the defeated man has no reason to complain, but when nominations are stolen disruption follows, and the nominees do not get the support of a united party.

The "leg-lock around the neck of the party" lost its strangle hold and the people, by virtue of the State primary law, now have the power to select the standard bearers of the party. Let them do it and harmony will prevail. CHARLES J. MAURER.

MISSOURI'S PRIDE.



THE CHARMS OF BIRD-LOVE.

From Collier's.

Ostentatious is his love-making, his nest-building, and the rearing of his young, he has doubtless offered to many a dweller in the tenements their only glimpse into the charms of bird-lore. How many a back tin roof is the eagerly watched feeding ground of the sparrows? How many a helpless baby bird, fallen prematurely to the pavement, has been to some boy of the alley a first pet to awaken the germs of sympathy and protection? While standing on a street corner one gusty April morning, my attention was attracted by the watchman of a half-completed building, who from his tiny cabin was tossing fragments of cotton out upon the wind. Following them in their course, I soon observed that they were all snatched ere they reached the ground by English sparrows, who bore them off triumphant to their nests. In the conversation that ensued, I learned that the man had a keen interest in the birds, and by reason of his intelligent attention to their wants was enabled to overcome the dreariness of his task in a broader enjoyment of life.

A SPLATTER OF CREDIT.

From the Indianapolis Star.

The Viviano families of St. Louis are fortunate in having their two little stolen children returned to them after an absence of two months. Turned loose on the streets of Chicago, as these babies were, too young or too frightened to tell who they were, they might easily have been disposed of as waifs and sent to an institution without their identity ever becoming known. It speaks well for the intelligence of the Chicago police that the Viviano case was recalled when the children were found. A promised reward may account to some extent for their alertness, but a degree of credit must be given them for official watchfulness and active memories unimpaired by possible benefits.

SWELLING THE BURDEN.

From the New York World.

The reason of the high price of meat, as explained by the chairman of the packers' committee, is very simple. It costs more to feed stock, thus increasing the price the packer pays, and as "the wholesalers and retailers cannot afford to pay the difference, it consequently falls on the public, the consumer." In passing the increased cost along to the consumer none of the middlemen, of course, make any addition.

SKINNY.—As to baths for reducing flesh, Turkish and hot baths are recommended by some authorities. They excite the action of the skin, and, together with massage, are effectual when combined with diet and outdoor exercise. Alone they will accomplish little.

NEWLYWED.—Luncheon menu: First, grapefruit, or omit that and start with a soup or bouillon; then chicken or sweetbread patties with mushrooms, potato croquettes, hot rolls, fruit salad, cheese wafers, charlotte russe, coffee, chocolate or tea.

JOE.—Duestrow died Feb. 17, '97.

JAMESON.—If you have the length and width of a bin and the height of coal therein you find the number of tons by figuring contents in inches, dividing by 1848 to get number of bushels, and multiplying by 80 to get number of pounds and tons. This will be a fair approximation.

X. Y. Z.—In pressing your clothes did you use a pressing board, with a doubled sheet between the garment and the board? Somebody says: "Use a large piece of light brown wrapping paper. This does away with water and damp cloths, and makes plaits and creases better."

R. H. A.—Cornbread is certainly a healthful food. The Confederate soldiers, 600,000 of whom fought, often successfully, the 2,000,000 brave men sent against them, were eaters of cornbread; so were the strong, healthy plantation negroes of the South. Discontinue any food that does not agree with you.

G. H.—Life is said to be the union of the soul and the body; the vital force, whether regarded as physical or spiritual. The breath of life, says Genesis, was breathed into man's nostrils and he became a living soul. Exactly what life is we cannot, or at least do not know, and theories in regard to it are idle. We don't know just how much air and electricity have to do with life.

NEWLYWED.—Cold slaw: Cut up enough of best head of bleached cabbage into shreds to fill a large bowl; shave very fine and then chop thoroughly; season with salt and pepper. Turn over it a dressing and garnish with slices of hard-boiled eggs. Dressing for cold slaw: Beat 2 eggs with two tablespoons sugar, add butter the size of half an egg, a teaspoon of mustard, a little pepper, and then a teacup of vinegar. Put into dish and cook like soft custard. Plain cold slaw: Slice cabbage very fine; season with salt, pepper and a little sugar; pour over vinegar and mix thoroughly. May be served in center of a platter with fried oysters around.

F. M.—Do not use any kind of soap for furs. To clean furs, both light and dark: Mix together a pint of flour, a pint of bran and a tablespoon of fuller's earth. Brush and shake, then lay on a table and rub with this mixture, using a piece of coarse flannel, and rubbing it the wrong way of the fur. Shake out all the cleaning material and then go over the fur again, in the same way, using bran instead of the flour mixture. Shake out the bran and wipe the fur with cheesecloth, and it will be quite clean. For dark furs, proceed in the same manner, only heat the bran first and use it repeatedly, omitting the flour and fuller's earth mixture. Heat the bran in the oven; shake it out well or it will show on the dark furs.

The Little Brown Jug at Kildare

By Meredith Nicholson.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Thomas Ardmore sees a girl wink at him from a passing train. He finds that she is Miss Geraldine Dangerfield, daughter of the Governor of North Carolina. Ardmore's friend, Prof Griswold of the University of Virginia, becomes interested in Barbara Osborne, daughter of the Governor of South Carolina. The Governors have disappeared after a public quarrel in a convention at New Orleans, and their daughters are practically acting for them in the capitals of their respective states. Bill Appleweight, a notorious outlaw operating on the border of North and South Carolina, is politically powerful. Each Governor wants him suppressed, but is afraid to move against him. Ardmore goes with Miss Dangerfield and his sister, Mrs. Atchison, to his estate (Ardsley), which is in the Appleweight country, and in both states. Griswold and Miss Osborne go to Turner, which is near Ardsley. Each party hopes to capture Appleweight and incarcerate him in a jail on the enemy's side of the border, thus shifting responsibility. Griswold organizes Appleweight's enemies and captures him, but the prisoner is mysteriously taken from them by Miss Dangerfield, who finds him tied to his horse in the forest. She refuses to release him until he has guided her to Ardsley. When they arrive there Appleweight is recognized by one of Ardmore's detectives and is held. Ardmore locks up in a corn crib a man who says he is Governor of South Carolina. Militia of both states gathers on the borders. Adjutant-General Gillingwater, who is Miss Dangerfield's fiance, goes to the front, but flees in fright. Appleweight is taken secretly to Turner, the county seat of Mingo County, North Carolina, by Ardmore. Miss Dangerfield and party and locked in the jail there. The militia of the two states are nearly in conflict at the Raccoon, where a white flag is observed by Ardmore coming from the opposite bank. A meeting of the deputy Governors is arranged for, at Ardsley, each side claiming to have Appleweight. Ardmore produces his man, who is identified as the outlaw. Griswold produces his man, who is identified as Gov. Dangerfield.

CHAPTER XXI.

Good-by to Jerry Dangerfield.

COLLINS had been called away shortly before from the table, and he wore the serious air of one heavy with news.

"I beg to report that I have just completed a treaty with the journalists assembled in the cellar."

"I hope, Mr. Collins, that the journalists' convention below stairs realized that the lobster we sent them for supper was not canned, and that the mushrooms were creamed for their refreshment by Mrs. Atchison's special command. It is not for us to trifle with the dignity of the press," said Jerry.

"The reputations of two governors and of two states are in their hands," said the Governor of South Carolina, with feeling. "It would be a distressing end of my public services if the truth of all these matters should be known. The fact that Gov. Dangerfield and I had merely withdrawn from public life for a little quiet poker in the country, would sound like the grossest immorality to my exacting constituency."

"Both yourself and Gov. Dangerfield will be relieved to know that they have accepted my terms and all is well," responded Collins. "They will tell the waiting world that you have both been the guests of Mr. Ardmore, and that the troops assembled on the Raccoon are merely at their usual summer maneuvers. As for Appleweight, it has seemed expedient that he should be dead, and the man who has been called by that name of late is only an impostor seeking a little cheap notoriety. The boys are very sick of the cellar, and they would do even more than this to get away."

As the correspondents marched away to take the special train provided for them at Kildare by Ardmore, they continued to cheer, and they were still demanding, as long as their cries could be heard at Ardsley:

What did he say to him?
What did he say to him?
What did who say?
What did the Governor of North Carolina
SAY
To the Governor of South Carolina?

With a sigh Ardmore left them at the great gates of Ardsley and returned to the house to find Jerry; but that young woman was the center of a wide circle of admiring militia officers, and the master of Ardsley was so depressed by the spectacle that he sought a dim corner of the grounds where there was a stone bench by a fountain, and there, to his confusion, he beheld Miss Barbara Osborne and Henry Maine Griswold; and Miss Osborne, it seemed, was in the act of fastening a white rose in Prof. Griswold's coat.

The next morning Ardmore knocked at Griswold's door as early as he dared, and went in and talked to his friend in their old intimate fashion. The associate professor of admiralty was shaving himself with care.

"You won't have any hard feelings about that scarlet fever business, will you, Grissy? It was downright selfish of me to want to keep the thing to myself, but I thought it would be fun to go ahead and carry it through and then show you how well I pulled it off."

"Don't ever refer to it again, if you love me," spluttered Griswold amiably, as he washed off the lather. "I, too, have ruled over a kingdom, and I have seen history in the making, quorum pars magna fui."

Breakfast was a lingering affair at Ardsley that morning. The two governors and the national guard officers who had spent the night in the house were not in the slightest hurry to break up the party, for such a company, they all knew, could hardly be assembled again. The governors were a trifle nervous as to the attitude of the press, in spite of Collins' efforts to dictate what history should say of the affair on the Raccoon; but before they left the table the Raleigh morning papers were brought in and it was clear that the newspaper men were keeping their contract.

Ardmore, anxious to make everyone at home, saw the morning pass without a chance to speak to Jerry; and when he was free shortly before noon he was chagrined to find that she had gone for a ride over the estate with her father, Gov. Osborne, Barbara and Griswold. He went in pursuit, and to his delight found her presently sitting alone on a log by the Raccoon, having dismounted, it appeared, to rescue a fledgling robin whose cries had led her away from her companions. She pointed out the nest and directed him to climb the tree and restore the bird. This done he sat down beside her at a point where the Raccoon curved sweepingly and swung off abruptly into a new course.

"I hope your father didn't scold you for anything we did," he began meekly.

"No; he took it all pretty well, and promised that if I wouldn't tell mamma what he had been doing—about coming down here with Gov. Osborne just to settle an old score at poker—mamma doesn't approve of cards, you know—that he would make me a present of a better riding horse than the one I now have, and he might even consider a trip abroad next summer."

"Oh, you mustn't go abroad! It's—it's so lonesome abroad!"

"How perfectly ridiculous! Has it never occurred to you that I am never lonesome, not even when I'm alone."

"Well," said Ardmore, who saw that he was headed for a blind alley, "I'm glad your father was not displeased with our work."

"He'll think we did pretty well after he's read our correspondence in his letter books. I told him the stamp we stamped his name with worked better with the red ink pad than with the black one, which ought at any rate, to be clear enough to a man of papa's intelligence."

"It's a good thing all this fuss about the Appleweight people is over or I should be worse than silly. My mind was not intended for such heavy work."

"I think you have a good mind Mr. Ardmore," said Jerry with the air of one who makes concessions. "You really did well in all these troubles, and you did much better than I thought you would the day I hired you for private secretary. I think I could safely recommend you to any Governor in need of assistance."

"You talk as though you were getting ready to discharge me," said Ardmore plaintively, "and I don't want to lose my job."

"You ought to have something to do," said Jerry thoughtfully. "As near as I can make out you have never done anything but study about pirates and collect pernicious books on the sinful live of Captain Kidd. You should have some larger aim in life that that and I think I know of a good position that is now open, or will be as soon as papa has cleared out the peanut shells we left in his desk. I think you would make an excellent Adjutant-General with full charge of the State militia. You have already had experience in the handling of troops, and as Rutherford Gillingwater never did anything but get typhoid fever to earn the place, I see no reason why papa should not appoint you to the position."

"But you have to get rid of Gillingwater first," suggested Ardmore, his heart beating fast.

"If you mean that he has to be removed from office, I will tell you now, Mr. Ardmore, that Rutherford Gillingwater will no longer sign himself Adjutant-General of North Carolina. I removed him myself in a general order I wrote yesterday afternoon just before I told papa that you and I could not act as Governor any longer, but that he must resume the yoke."

"But that must have been a matter of considerable delicacy, Miss Dangerfield, when you consider that you are engaged to marry Mr. Gillingwater."

"Not in the least," said Jerry, "I broke our engagement the moment I saw that he came here the other night all dressed up to eat and not to fight, and he is now free to engage himself to that thin blonde at Goldsboro whom he thinks so highly intellectual."

Jerry held up her left hand and regarded its ringless fingers judicially, while Ardmore, his heart racing hotly against all records, watched her, and and with a particular covetousness his eyes studied that trifle of a hand.

Then with a quick gesture he seized her hand and raised her gently to her feet.

"Jerry!" he cried. "From the moment you winked at me I have loved you. I should have followed you round the world until I found you. If you can marry a worthless wretch like me, if—oh, Jerry!"

She gently freed her hand and stepped to one side, bending her head like a bird that pauses alarmed, or uncertain of its whereabouts, glancing cautiously up and down the creek.

"Mr. Ardmore," she said, "you may not be aware that when you asked me to be your wife—and that, I take it, was your intention—you were standing in South Carolina, while I stood with both feet on the sacred soil of the Old North State. Under the circumstances I do not think your proposal is legal. Moreover, unless you are quite positive which eye it was that so far forgot itself as to wink, I do not think the matter can go further."

The slightest suggestion of a smile played about her lips, but he was very deeply troubled, and, seeing this, her eyes grew grave with kindness.

"Mr. Ardmore, if your muscles of locomotion have not been utterly paralyzed, and if you will leave that particular State of the Union which, next to Massachusetts, I most deeply abhor, I will do what I can in my poor weak way—as father says in beginning his best speeches—to assist you to the answer."

Then for many aeons, when he had his arms about her, a kiss, which he had intended for the lips that were so near, somehow failed of its destination, and fell upon what seemed to him a roseleaf gone to Heaven, but which was, in fact, Jerry Dangerfield's left eye. His being tingled with the most delicious of intoxications, to which the clasp of her arms about his neck added unnecessary though not unwelcome delight. Then she drew back and held him away with her finger tips for an instant.

"Mr. Thomas Ardmore," she said, with maddening deliberation, "it may not be important, but I must tell you in all candor that it was the other eye."

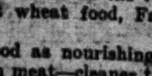
NOURISHING AS MEAT.

The time-worn argument that a meat diet is essential to strength and vigor has received a hard knock in the form of America's great wheat food, Faust Brand Spaghetti.

For here is a food as nourishing as meat—cheaper than meat—cleaner than meat — that produces energy without great body heat—a food that can be served every day and in so many ways that its usefulness and welcome is without end. The food for vegetarians—a food that has replaced meat in many homes.



Makes meal preparation a pleasure. No more guessing what to have—what to get that this one will like and at the same time please the others.

Job's Afflictions Paled.

Leonora O'Reilly, the vice-president of the Women's Trade League, was praising this organization's work in New York.

"And it has a great future before it," she said. "I have no doubt that a century hence the members of the league will regard the woman of today as we now regard the farmer's wife of the early '40s.

"A Maine deacon of the early '40s was talking to the minister. He sniffed and whined:

"'O, yes, Job suffered some. I ain't denyin' that, parson. But Job never knowed what it was to have his team run off and kill his wife right in the midst of the harvest season, with hired girls wantin' $2.50 a week.'"—Philadel-

ZENGER the Printer

New York, 1735.

ZENGER the Printer, through storm and stress,
Deaf to a sycophant Council's rage,
Doggedly toiled at his wooden press,
Building his monument page by page;

Telling of Tyranny's foul disgrace,
Rousing the spirit that never dies,
Shouting for right in the market-place,
Speaking the truth in a world of lies;

Vexing the Governor's pampered fold,
Scourging with Irony's stinging whip,
Showing how Justice was bought and sold
Phrasing the wrath of the curling lip.

Wrongfully haled through the public street,
Angrily flung on the dungeon floor,
Grimly he published his galling sheet
Out "through the hole in the prison door."

Vain were the wiles of a servile Judge,
Twisting to evil the wholesome laws
Vain was the Governor's bitter grudge
Sturdy old Hamilton urged his cause

"Men of Manhattan, your fateful word
Blesses or curses the coming time.
Say! shall the Downtrodden die unheard?
Where is your freedom if Truth be crime?"

Nobly those men of a free-born strain
Answered the call of that noble plea,
Breaking the Truth-Teller's futile chain
Freeing the weapon that made men free.

ARTHUR GUITERMAN.

PUCK SAYS:

Truthfully Chronicled.

THE editor of the Scotia Chronicle is determined that at least one wedding shall be written up truthfully, so here goes:

A very homely wedding took place last night at the mortgaged home of Gamaliel Gault of Burdock Lane, when his 35-year-old daughter, Miss Helena Gault, was joined in legal and lawful wedlock with Jeremiah Fisher, an old widower of Fisher's Landing.

The bride took her part well for one totally inexperienced. She was clothed in the ordinary and inconspicuous garments of her sex, while the groom wore his best store-clothes, which cost $10.39 in Albany three years ago. Old Fisher needed a wife to take care of the house on his old farm, and Helena has wanted a man for lo! these many years. The minister who tied the knot does not guarantee that it won't slip, or that it can't be cut; but does guarantee their right to live together without scandalizing the neighborhood or causing undue talk. He got his fee, which was $2, and was durned glad to get it.

Old man Gault is mighty pleased Helena is wed. He did not give her away, but would have long ago if anyone had asked for her.

The Parable of the Pebbles.

Once upon a time a very wise lady saw a chicken eat a pebble.

Then the wise lady told what she had seen, with additions.

"A strict pebble diet is the only thing for chickens," affirmed she.

Not until the poor birds had died by thousands did the people realize that because one chicken eats one pebble once, all chickens do not want their entire diet to consist of pebbles.

Have a Purse for Baby.

WHEN my two little girls were aged 1 and 3 years respectively I thought it a good plan to begin giving them a weekly allowance, although, of course, they were too young though, to know anything about spending it.

I gave them ten cents a week each and taught them from the first to take out the tenth for benevolent purposes. As they had little need to spend, as soon as they had accumulated a dollar a savings-bank account was opened in their own name. Their weekly allowance, together with amounts given them on their birthdays and Christmas, and gifts from relatives and friends, soon gave them a nice little account at the bank.

When they started to school the allowance was increased to 25 cents a week, and out of this they were required to buy tablets, pencils, and all little school supplies.

They still always lay aside the tenth for benevolence, the balance is divided as they please, usually a part being put on their saving account.

As they grow older the weekly amount will be increased, and articles of clothing added to their list, until, by the time they are grown, I hope they will be able to purchase all of their own clothes with good judgment and taste.

I also give them small purchases to make for me, sometimes telling them just what I want to test their accuracy; again leaving it to their judgment to test their taste. I am much pleased with the results. They are being trained to give, save and spend systematically, and now have a bank account.

Notes of Newest Fashions.

PARIS is strong for tailored suits in navy blue and black.

Richness of fabrics is the keynote.

The new "Selkirk" coat has stylish side-pleatings, low-cut revers and adroit touches of handsome, uncut velvet showing a distinct "wale."

Pleats are applied to new coats at back and sides, and in panels with masterly skill.

The plainest coats are made individual and distinctive by adding jet buttons, velvet collars, big pockets, curiously cut sleeves, and panels.

The new sweaters are jaunty and graceful. They come in fancy weaves, in white, cardinal and oxford.

The jersey tops of the moyenage gowns are 30 inches long. They may be plain, except for jet buttons, or heavily braided.

The new diagonals make smart tailored suits, the rich colorings give added elegance.

JEFF BACK FROM ABROAD, WILL TRY TO ARRANGE TERMS FOR HIS BOUT WITH JACK JOHNSON BY SATURDAY SOCCER TEAM FROM GILLESPIE GAINS BIG NAME BY HOLDING BRITISH ELEVEN TO A TIE GAME ON MUDDY FIELD FOOTBALL

JEFF ARRIVES TO FIX TERMS OF BIG FIGHT

Managers and Fighters Will Meet Today or Saturday to Decide All Mooted Points.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.

James J. Jeffries has come back from his European trip ready and fit, it is believed, to fight Jack Johnson for the heavyweight championship of the world. In the environs of Carlsbad, Bohemia, the one time boilermaker is asserted to have trained vigorously for the Johnson mill without giving the slightest hint to his friends in America of what he was doing.

When Jeffries walked down the gang plank of the steamship Lusitania, which arrived today, he looked as if he was in fighting trim. His solid hulk of frame was without superfluous flesh and his complexion was clear. Sam Berger, his sparring partner, and a host of admirers at the dock, appeared surprised at the physical condition of the retired champion.

"Now I'm ready to fight Johnson tomorrow," said the big fellow, "and the sooner the articles are signed the better. I'll live up to the Berger agreement, but as to details they can take care of themselves."

"What about Johnson?" was asked.

Jeffries' brown eyes snapped as he replied:

"I care not about Johnson. That negro has made more noise and done less than any man I know."

Jeffries told how he had brought himself into fighting conditions, but he was a little reticent about his weight.

"I weighed under 220 pounds at Carlsbad," began Jeffries slowly, "and the last time I jumped on the scales—it was in France——".

"I tipped the beam at 228 pounds, but you can't get me on the scales now for $20."

"How did I get into shape? It seems the newspaper men always have me with a lot of fat on my body. I didn't have much when I went away and I haven't any now."

And to emphasize the point Jeffries seized a substantial part of his vest in his hand to show how small his waist line had grown.

"Now, at Carlsbad I did 10 miles on the road every morning," continued the former champion, "and in the afternoon I put in my time in the gymnasiums. The Germans thought I was crazy when they saw me running along the highways.

"I did some more work in France and trained at a place just out of Paris. I had to look at the address on a card every time I went out there to work. The French are crazy over fighting and I saw some bouts there. I also took in some of the exhibitions at the National Sporting Club at London, but their advertised heavyweight contests are nothing more than middleweight affairs.

"I have done no boxing while abroad."

Jeffries said he would undergo an operation on his nose in a few days, while in this city.

"I would have had it done in Carlsbad, but they told me there that the doctors here could do it just as well, and again, the prices they wanted were something fearful. My nose is broken and it interferes with my breathing."

Jeffries said he had talked to no one while abroad about his fight with Johnson, and denied he had said that he wanted a purse of $150,000 for the mill.

Mrs. Jeffries accompanied her husband on the trip and spent some time at her home in Saxe-Meiningen.

Jeffries probably will meet Jack Johnson and his manager in this city early next week, when the final articles for the fight will be signed.

Last August in Chicago, Sam Berger, for Jeffries, signed a preliminary agreement with Johnson for a contest of anywhere from 20 to 100 rounds, before the club offering the largest purse, which was to be divided on any terms made by Jeffries. The agreement provided that the fight should take place within six months after the signing of articles.

The retired champion said he had heard in Paris that Sam McVey in his contest with Joe Jeannette in that city had really won the fight, and that it had been fixed for Jeannette to win. Jeffries added that McVey was only a right-handed fighter and would have little chance with Johnson.

"You want a left hand to fight Johnson," added Jeffries, as he walked away to join an admiring crowd of friends on the pier.

MISSOURI COACH EXPECTS TO WIN TWO IOWA GAMES

Roper Likes His Tiger Squad, Which Starts on Its Campaign Confidently.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 22.—"There is no reason why we should not win both the Ames and Iowa games while we are on the trip," said Coach Roper today when asked about the prospects. "We will take 21 men on the trip, so we will not fall short of substitutes. It will be hard to keep the men in condition while traveling, but I expect them to be in as good condition when they play Iowa on Oct. 30 as when they play Ames."

The 21 men to be taken on the trip are those which have shown up best so far in the games and in scrimmage. Gove, Roberts, Alexander, Johnson, Idler, Saunders, Deatherage, Clair, Pixley, Klein, Pearson, Hall, Thatcher, Doyle, Bradley, Wilder, Hackney, Bluck and Shuck, headed by Capt. Ristine, will be taken.

Instead of coming back to Columbia after the Ames game the team will rest up at Cedar Rapids all the next week, having practice work and scrimmage with Coe College. It is the intention of Coach Roper to give the team just enough scrimmage work to keep them in good condition while in Cedar Rapids. Saturday, Oct. 30, they proceed to Iowa City, where they play Iowa State University.

According to Guy S. Lowman, assistant coach of the Tigers, who saw Ames defeat Grinnell College last Saturday, the Tigers have a hard proposition before them.

Eastern Teams Ready for Games Tomorrow

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22.—The coaches tried a new feature in the practice yesterday, and sent the varsity against the freshmen for 25 minutes. The freshmen captain, Pendleton, who won the 100 and 200 yards dashes in the interclass races, caused considerable trouble for the varsity. He frequently circled the ends for good gains and very nearly scored. The varsity scored twice during the period. First on the line plunges of Matthews, sub fullback, and a second time Matthews was pushed over after long gains by Sparks and Cunningham. Gill, Welch, Ballin, Van Dyke and Devito were used on the varsity ends. The regular backfield, Read, Dawson and Hart, was not used.

The second half of the practice was a short period of scrimmage between the varsity subs and scrubs. Each side scored.

Harvard After More Coaches.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 22.—"C. Q. D." was the message flashed out from the Harvard football camp today, addressed to Coaches Bob Kernan and Dave Campbell, old Crimson stars. Kernan wired he would report last Monday, but has not shown up yet. Campbell is still unlocated. Harvard's practice yesterday was given over to a defensive drill lasting one hour. The second was given the oval and told to do their prettiest. What they did to young Withington, guard, and Hooper, at tackle, was a "measley" shame. Considerable attention was devoted to perfecting the interference. With the Yale contest but a month away, the eleven must absorb the rudimentary essential of football, team play, and learn that individualism is decidedly "passe" against an eleven of recognized ability. Perkins may go back to center Saturday, P. Withington returned to guard and his brother, Lothrop, will be placed on the side lines if McKay starts the contest. Corbett will not get into the fray, neither will the regular left guard, West.

Freshmen Score on Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The varsity did not engage with the scrubs here yesterday. Instead of their regular scrimmage with the second team, the first Red and White eleven took on the freshmen team, which is said to be one of the best Cornell has ever had. The youngsters lived up to their good reputation, too. Immediately after the ball was put into play their fullback, Bates, carried it over for the first touchdown of the game.

The varsity men were chagrined, to say the least. They settled down, however, and tore up the freshmen line, scoring two touchdowns without a great deal of difficulty, although the "fresh" fought gamely.

Just who will be in the line-up of the big Red team when it faces the University of Vermont on Saturday is not known at present. The strong showing of many members of the present scrub eleven will cause the coaches a good deal of thinking before they can decide who to send in. Vermont is known as a strong team. The men from Burlington held Dartmouth to a 0-0 score two weeks ago.

Andrus Out of Yale Line-Up.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 22.—Ham Andrus, the giant Yale guard and tackle, is suffering from a lame back which may keep him out of the games up to the Harvard and Princeton contests. There was a rumor among the members of the squad yesterday that Andrus would be unable to play at all, but this was partially dispelled when Andrus came to the field in uniform.

He took no part in the scrimmage or in the signal drill.

The varsity made three touchdowns all the result of line plunging. Coy did not hesitate to buck the line time after time, and he made two of the scores. The third was made by Philbin, five minutes after the scrimmage started.

Hard Drill for Penn.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—In preparation for the State game which will be played tomorrow afternoon, on Franklin Field, Penn's football team was, yesterday afternoon, put through a severe drill of not only the advanced points of football, but all the rudiments as well.

Yesterday was the first time in a long while that the coaches had considered it necessary to go back to the elementary tactics, but owing to the slump which was apparent last Saturday against Brown, it was considered necessary that the men should be given another long tryout in the fundamentals of gridiron knowledge.

The fore part of the afternoon was given over to tackling and running down under punts. Following this preliminary drill the ends, linemen and backfield material were separated into different squads and put through a stiff practice in their respective branches.

Krebs Defeats Larsen.

Krebs defeated Larsen in the straight-rail billiard tournament match at Peterson's, Thursday night, 140 to 128. Tozer and Bokes play Friday night.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

MR. MURPHY of the Cubs, who has been guilty of more gaucheries than any other owner in big league baseballdom, has put his foot in it once more. As usual, it was by opening his mouth that he was enabled to perform the pedal acrobatics mentioned. On a recent occasion the gentleman said:

"I favor a longer season than 154 games. The reason is, the players' contracts extend to Oct. 15, and we are not getting full benefit from the money we invest in them."

And this from a man named Murphy!

Where Mr. Murphy put his foot in it is here: The public has been clamoring not for a longer, but a shorter season. The baseball year begins and ends in inclement weather. The public shivers and the players injure themselves. The long-drawn season permits the interest to flag save in such centers as where the teams are close in the race.

It is argued that with a shorter schedule the interest would be more keen, the players rendered less liable to injury from too early use and the teams be less apt to wear out than under the hard gruelling of a 154-game season.

The world's series games are nearly always played under weather conditions opposed to good baseball. Certainly the recent contests in this respect were costly to Jennings, for it prevented Wild Bill Donovan from appearing to advantage in more than one game.

The motion will be made at the next joint meeting of the leagues, not that the season be extended, but that it be restricted. Possibly it will go back to the old 140-game arrangement, permitting the season to end in September and enabling the world's series to be played at least two weeks earlier.

Back to the Middle Ages.

THERE was an aching void in St. Louis baseball this season and it was not due alone to the failure of the Browns. In the middle ages of baseball here it was customary to play championship series between the Browns and the Cardinals both spring and fall. We had little thought of league or world's pennants then, but it was an occasion for excitement when the Cardinals and Browns met. Last season we were cut off from even that solace through the bickerings and rivalries of the owners of the clubs. They were financially cutting off their noses to spite their own faces, in abandoning the city championships; but they did it, poor things.

The public carried the bag and there was not an interesting moment connected with either team's efforts for the flag, beyond an early flash by the Cardinals.

The owners of the club, it would seem, owe the fans some compensation for failure to deliver the goods in a larger way. If put to a vote the entire city would doubtless unanimously express in favor of resumption of the local series.

Why not, Messrs. Hedges and Robison?

To Test League's Strength.

IN threshing over the matter of the relative strength of the two leagues why not inaugurate post-season series between teams of the entire League? In other words match together for a seven-game series the clubs of corresponding position in the respective leagues. While even this might not be convincing, it would certainly cause a great deal of entertainment and interest—not to say argument. The games would be bitterly fought.

Stanley Ketchel says he will fight no more this year. Probably he needs a good long time to digest that awful Johnson fight. Stanley is a good little fighter, but it was folly to send him against the negro mammoth.

And perhaps Johnson hasn't known exactly what he was doing in every fight he has so far patched up. It sends the "creeps" down the spine when one thinks that his good judgment of his opponents, if applied to Jeff, will spell something like disaster.

It is indeed difficult to believe that Jeff, for all his Carlsbad baths, horseback riding and other accessories to physical regeneration, can overcome the burden of that five years' inactivity.

For 10 rounds? Yes. For a finish fight, not for the salary check of your humble servant. Johnson will just lean away from Jeff until the lungs of the big fellow cry out and his frame begins to falter from its own exertions. Then the black terror will begin the chopping and hacking that leads up to a knockout.

Jeff must win early, if at all.

Whatever happens, Jeff's efforts to get back into condition will furnish a message to the poor "has-beens" of many sorts. Jeff has a theory in connection with his training. He believes that athletes have failed to "come back" not because they were physically deteriorated permanently, but because they did not devote corresponding time to recuperating. He believes that, having been absent from the ring five years, it will take him nearly two to thoroughly restore himself.

Perhaps he's right. Certainly those who have sought to return from oblivion heretofore have been content to work their salvation out in a comparatively few weeks.

If Jeff succeeds there will be a startling activity in the down-and-out brigade.

JENNINGS WANTS SLICE OF TIGERS' PROSPERITY

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 22.—President Frank J. Navin and Manager Hugh Jennings have carried their sparring over the renewal of Jennings' contract to manage the Tigers into the newspapers.

In statements made yesterday both spoke frankly regarding their views on the subject.

Said Hughie: "When I came to Detroit I signed at my own terms. When my contract was renewed after my first year I signed for two years again at my own terms. This year and last things broke nicely for me and the club. The management has made money. I expect and have no reason to doubt that I shall share in the prosperity."

While Jennings did not say that if a new contract was drawn it would be at his figures, the inference was plain. His attitude is unquestionably strengthened by the offer made by the Philadelphia Nationals, who are known to have made him the most tempting offers.

President Navin said: "We want Jennings to manage our team, and I think he wants to stay. Of course, I am not going to say what Detroit is willing to offer. I have not talked business with Hughie yet and it may not take us five minutes to get together when we meet."

GILLESPIE TEAM GAINS FAME BY PILGRIMS GAME

Cahill Believes Illinois Soccer Eleven Is Fastest in All America.

In spite of the fact that the attendance at the Pilgrims' soccer contests does not make it seem as though the game is going to prove a bonanza for local men this season, considerable interest is being stirred up by challenges, accompanied by offers to wager large sums of money.

Pat Gillen of Benld, Ill., is out with an offer to wager $500 that the Gillespie Thistles of Gillespie, Ill., can defeat any soccer club in St. Louis, St. Leos included. The Gillespie team Wednesday afternoon tied the Pilgrims, 1 to 1. Dick Jarrett and other local men who knew the true speed of the Gillespie eleven, cleaned up quite a sum of money wagering that the Pilgrims would not score four goals. The Gillespie team, in "Sandy" Main, center forward, and Robertson, left halfback, two men who came to this country from England a short time ago, has two stars. They are both "internationals," or men who have been picked from the All-England soccer team.

Cairns, captain of the Thistles, has also secured the best players of the old Innisfails team. Tommy Cahill, secretary of the International Soccer Association, who witnessed most of the games in the East, declares that the Gillespie team played the best football of any of the American clubs that have played the Pilgrims up to date. The Gillespie team is the only one, also, that has escaped defeat at the hands of the Englishmen.

Meanwhile the St. Leos, champions of St. Louis, are not saying much. This team was challenged by Jack Evans of Chicago, who wanted to wager $500 that the Pilgrims can beat the St. Leos by six goals. Pete Gunn, Evans' representative, offered to post the money anytime the St. Leos accept. The St. Leos are not in condition to play at present, but it is probable that the St. Leos will meet the Pilgrims in one of the games, and the Gillespie team in the other contest, when the Pilgrims return to St. Louis on Oct. 30 and 31.

Tom Cahill departed for Chicago at noon Thursday, to make arrangements for the games that the Pilgrims will play in Chicago, Saturday and Sunday. Chicago has some good soccer players

Ketchel Will Not Fight Again Until Next Year

Manager of Middleweight Champion Will Let Him Rest While Papke and Langford Battle It Out.

BY JOHN POLLOCK,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Stanley Ketchel will not fight again this year. His manager, Willus Britt, declared in San Francisco last night that as Ketchel has engaged in several hard fights during the last ten months, he thought he was entitled to a long rest and would not under any circumstances sign him up for any fight, no matter if he was even offered $10,000 for his services.

Britt said that it would be a good chance for Langford and Papke to have it out in the ring and that he would match Ketchel with the winner for the middleweight championship title.

Nelson-Wolgast Bout Off.

Battling Nelson has called off his 20-round bout with Ad. Wolgast, the Milwaukee lightweight, which was clinched a few days ago to take place before one of the clubs in San Francisco in December, although Nelson was offered a guarantee of $10,000 for his end of the battle, he decided he could make more money by accepting a theatrical engagement from Tommy Miner, which calls for a 23-week engagement at from $1000 to $1350 per week.

Jack Johnson Arrested.

Jack Johnson was arrested again in San Francisco last night for running an automobile faster than the law permits. He deposited a $100 bill for his appearance in court today. Immediately after he is released he intends to meet Jim Jeffries and come to terms for his fight with him. Johnson has been arrested several times in Frisco for the same offense.

Leach Cross has returned from his honeymoon and will begin training today at the Woodlawn Inn, on Upper Jerome avenue, for his fifteen-round bout with Harry Stone, which takes place at the Eureka A. C. of Baltimore on the night of Oct. 28. Leach says that he intends to go right along fighting this winter and would like to meet Tommy Murphy.

George Kitson, who was one of the most promising bantam weights turned out in this city since the Horton law days, has been matched to meet young Fitzgerald, the Milwaukee bantam weight for fifteen rounds at the West Side A. C. of New Orleans on October 21. They will box the preliminary battle to the twenty-round go between Billy Papke and Sailor Burke. These are two good bouts that should pack the clubhouse to its capacity.

Fight Films in Gotham.

Tiv Kreiling, the well-known trainer and handler of pugilists, of San Francisco, will arrive in town late tonight with the films of the Johnson-Ketchel fight. He will be met by Charley Harvey, who will take possession of the films and turn them over to an expert operator, who will give them a trial tomorrow for the benefit of the sporting writers of the different papers.

It was learned from a reliable source last night that Jimmy Coffroth intends to make Jeffries and Jack Johnson a flat guarantee of a $50,000 purse, or allow them to take 70 per cent of the gross receipts for a fight at his club at Colma, Cal., next April or May. Jimmy will have to go better than this in order to get the fight, for Hugh McIntosh has already offered $60,000, while the Miller brothers, owners of the 101 Ranch are anxious to put up a purse of $100,000.

COUNTRY CLUB POLOISTS PLAY KANSAS CITY SATURDAY

An all-star polo team composed of members of the St. Louis Country Club will play a team from the Kansas City Country Club on the St. Louis Country Club polo field Saturday afternoon. The game should be a good one, as the St. Louis men have been practicing twice a week all summer.

The Kansas City team, composed of S. H. Velie, S. R. Hall, T. A. Velie and L. M. Magill, defeated the St. Louis Country Club second team in a game at the Country Club Thursday afternoon, 9 to 5. The contest was close and exciting in the first half, the St. Louis players, Dwight Davis, George Simmonds, Alexander Primm and C. Bascom, who was later relieved by W. Ewing, holding the visitors to a 3-3 score. In the second half the local men tired.

If they had bands on them they would cost more, if they were well-shaped they would cost more, if they were prettily packed they would cost more, but they're all tobacco, and nothing else. You just pay for a full yard of ripe Havana, without any imagination or ornamentation. Everything that counts is left in—everything that doesn't is left out. That's why instead of paying 10 cents for one cigar, you can buy nine that are as good for 15 cents.

Interscholastic Teams Play Away From St. Louis

McKinley, Central and Yeatman High School Elevens and Manual T. S. to Get Train Rides Saturday.

Although an open date in the interscholastic schedule Saturday, the I. L. teams have booked some hard games in preparation to the big contests that are to come. McKinley, Central and Yeatman go out of town to play, and all will have to rely on their reserve energy to come back with victory. Smith was scheduled to play the Springfield (Ill.) team, but the game was called off. Manuel will meet Kirkwood in the county, while Western will oppose the St. Louis U. undergraduates.

If the McKinley High team comes home from Greenville unscathed they can consider themselves rather fortunate. Three years ago the South Siders handed Greenfield a 6-0 beating in one of the hardest fought games ever witnessed at that place. Should all the McKinley players return in good physical condition Coach Crosby will take his men to Alton Wednesday to play the Western M. A.

Central High will meet a strong team when they go to St. Charles to play the Military Academy of that place. These two teams have been rivals for several years and a tough battle is awaiting the Red and Black lads. Coach Walker's team, however, is well prepared for the conflict, and should win on their speed and aggressiveness.

Yeatman will journey to Macon, Mo., to meet the fast Blees Military Academy team. It is hardly probably that Coach Crippen's team will win, as the Cadets are usually a heavy and a speedy lot, two qualities which are absent in the local contingent.

Smith will not remain idle because of the calling off of the game with Springfield High. Much to the contrary, Coach Tucker has ordered all of his force to report for hard scrimmage, unless some other game is carded. The Red and White have not given up their hopes since their defeat Saturday, but each member of the squad is showing more of the fighting spirit since the surprise.

Manual will take on the Kirkwood High team at Kirkwood, and it is hoped that the Gold and Black will come back to life. Coach Thomas is not to blame for their poor showing.

The Western M. A.'s strong aggregation will entertain the St. Louis U.'s "undergrads" on their Alton campus. The Cadets should have little difficulty in putting the Blue and White lads on the shelf, as their team this year is the best Western has had in years.

MURPHY WOULD FORCE PLAYERS TO WORK LONGER

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—President Murphy of the Cubs has put himself on record as favoring a longer season of baseball. The present season of 154 games begins April 15, and ends the first week in October, while the players are under contract from April 15 to Oct. 15.

"I can't say just how many games I would favor," he said, "but it seems to me that the season ought to be extended to cover the period the players' contracts cover."

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the outward symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these external manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will sooner or later cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. Only a blood purifier can cure Contagious Blood Poison. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time, because of their strong mineral nature, and leave the poison smouldering in the system, have brought disappointment to thousands. The disease always returns after such treatment. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes into the blood, and removes every particle of the poison, making the circulation pure, rich and healthy, nor does S. S. S. leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. does not contain any mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which are most valuable in their blood-purifying properties, and at the same time specifically adapted to building up the entire system. If you have Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you because it will thoroughly purify your Blood. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all

LOCAL TEAMS' FACE HARDEST FOES TO DATE

Prospect of Three Defeats Faces St. Louis U., Barnes and Washington Elevens.

Friday will be the day of calm before the storm for all of the trio of "big" St. Louis college football elevens as on Saturday afternoon the teams will engage in games in which the odds are good that all the local colors will go down in defeat.

Washington University has a tremendous job on its hands, but the 25 players and Coach Francis Cayou, who departed Friday morning for Lawrence, Kan., were anything but willing to admit that the Jayhawkers will have an edge on the game Saturday afternoon.

Washington will be woefully light in comparison to the big Kansas U. players, but the Pikeway boys have the speed and on a dry field will give a good account of themselves.

Word has been received from Chicago that five of the players on the De Paul University eleven, which will depart for St. Louis Friday night, were last year picked for the All-Illinois team. The comparative scores made by De Paul against some of the best teams in the West make it apparent that the team is a strong one. In fact, Manager Halloran declares positively that the De Paul team is much stronger than last year's team. If it is, then Eddie Cochems' Barnes University eleven had better beware.

Little is really known of the De Paul team in St. Louis. In Chicago and throughout Illinois the team has quite a record. Cochems expects one of the hardest games of the season, but he thinks that with Johnny Magner, Grimes and Watts, his star backfield men, all in good trim again, there are few teams in the West that will be able to stop them.

The fact that big Bruce Brown was elected captain and will therefore stop all bickering on the field, is also going to help Barnes immensely.

Little Giants Crippled.

The Wabash College team departs from Crawfordsville, Ind., Friday afternoon, in a special car, for St. Louis. The Little Giants have sent out a bear story that several of their men are suffering from injuries and will be unable to play. St. Louis U. does not take much stock in these tales, as it is a well-known fact that when Wabash comes to St. Louis, the Crawfordsville men are always in the pink of condition and capable of putting up a terrific contest—from start to finish.

Wabash and St. Louis U. play at League Park, while Barnes and De Paul University play at Sportsman's Park.

Eddie Murphy may not play with St. Louis U. Saturday, or, in fact, in any game, for the reason that he did not want his parents to know that he was going to play. Unfortunately, Murphy failed to take the precuations to keep the fact that he was practicing with St. Louis U. from public view, and the result is that he now fears to get into the game because he does not want to offend his parents.

The De Paul University football eleven will line up as follows for the game with Barnes: Capt. Selby, center; Brown and Donovan, guards; Hyack and Leffert, tackles; Sweeney and Kearns, ends; Eastman, quarterback; Burson and Kennedy, halfbacks, and Kolb, fullback.

QUALEY BOWLS BEST MARK OF TENPIN SEASON

Other Stars Have Not Yet Reached Their Mid-Season Bowling Accuracy.

George Qualey is proving the premier tenpin bowler of St. Louis this season, although he is not shooting much above his average speed for the entire year of 1908, when he had a mark of over 190. In the Royal Arcanum League the largest tenpin league in the world, Qualey has done the best individual work, bowling with the Mentor team.

His average for 21 games is 189. In the City Star Tenpin League, which is the major tenpin organization of the city, Qualey is easily the star. His average for 15 games is 209. This is certainly "getting the wood," considering that 200 averages, for some reason, have been as scarce as perfect pearls. Qualey also has registered the highest average for three games, 218. Qualey bowls with the Regals team, which is leading the league with 12 games won and 3 lost and an average of 927 pins per game.

The Hyde Parks are second with 10 games won and 5 lost; Witter-Christens, won 10, lost 5; Duffys, won 8, lost 7; Fer Mil Lacs, won 7, lost 8; Blackwell-Wielandys, won 7, lost 8; Fern Glens, won 4, lost 11; Jaegers, won 2, lost 13.

Jules Schmitt of the Regals and Gus Schmitt are tied for the high single game honors with a 258 each. The Regals are responsible for the high team average for three games of 980 pins. The Witter-Christens take the honors for the high single game, 1051.

Layton Leads Abein.

Johnny Layton and George Abein will meet in the final block of a 300-point pool match at Leo Barter's pool hall, Friday night. Thursday night Layton scored 106 points to Abein's 13. The score now stands 210 to 89 in favor of Layton.

FIRST REGIMENT PLANS CLOSED ATHLETIC MEET

FINANCIAL ITEMS

Perhaps the most important piece of industrial financing which may be looked forward to early in 1910 will be that of the Lackawanna Steel Co., which must be arranged to meet the two outstanding issues of short term notes, aggregating $15,000,000, falling due at that time.

It is altogether likely that, provided there is any sort of a bond market at that time, these short term maturities will be met by the sale of consolidated mortgage 5 per cent bonds, due March 1, 1950. These bonds are authorized to the total amount of $[illegible],000,000, of which $15,000,000 are reserved for the redemption of the company's first mortgage 5s (the mortgage of which, although authorizing $20,000,000 bonds in all, was closed at $15,000,000 at the time of the creation of the consolidated mortgage), and $11,000,000 are pledged under the present outstanding note issues.

Since Oct. 1 the United States Steel Corporation has been booking a tonnage, the volume of which has never before been paralleled in the history of the corporation. If orders continue at the rate reported since the first of the month, the current quarter will reveal a larger increase in orders than in any previous quarter in history. In fact, new business has been coming in at a rate that could satisfy almost double the present capacity of the Steel Corporation.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes:

	Francs
Notes in circulation decreased	39,175,000
Treasury deposits increased	60,450,000
General deposits increased	6,725,000
Gold in hand increased	[illegible]
Silver in hand increased	[illegible]
Bills discounted decreased	[illegible]
Advances increased	[illegible]

STOCK MARKET CLOSES SHARPLY UNDER OPENING

Standard Issues Register Heaviest Losses on New York Exchange.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22, 12:30 p. m.—There were sharp losses in the general list during the forenoon. The losses ranged between ⅛ and 2⅛ points. Imminence of gold exports is assigned as the principal cause of the weakness.

Reading, Union Pacific and Steel common were about the weakest stocks on the list.

Consolidated Gas declined ½, Steel preferred ¾, Anaconda ⅞, Smelting and Colorado Fuel 1 each, Amalgamated Copper and Pacific Mail 1½ each and Steel common 2 points. Lead did not open.

In the rails section Erie lost ⅛, Atchison ½, B. & O. ⅝, Great Northern and Northern Pacific ¾ each, B. R. T. ⅞, New York Central, Rock Island common, Southern Pacific and Wabash preferred 1 each, Canadian Pacific 1⅛, Pennsylvania and C. & O. 1¼ each, D. & R. G. 1⅜, St. Paul 1½, Missouri Pacific 1⅞, Union Pacific 2 and Reading 2⅛ points.

It is worthy of note that in the general weakness, Rock Island preferred advanced ⅝.

Trading was in fair volume, being larger than that of yesterday. The total sales to noon were 483,400 shares.

Prices tumbled in the final half hour of Friday's session, the standard issues recording the heaviest losses, with the general list around the lowest figures of the day at the closing.

Price movements were irregular at the opening of the stock market today. A majority of the issues, however, opened lower than the closing figures. In every instance the change was insignificant, averaging about ¼ point. Colorado Fuel gained ⅛, Anaconda ¼, and Railway Springs ½. Steel preferred declined ¼, Smelting and Steel common ¼ each, Amalgamated ⅜, and Car and Foundry ½. The other industrials were about parity.

In the railway list C. & O., Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific declined ⅛ each, M., K. & T. and Reading ¼ each, Atchison, B. R. T., Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific ⅜ each, Great Northern and New York Central ½ each. Canadian Pacific, St. Paul and Rock Island common gained ⅛ each, Wabash preferred ¼, Pennsylvania ⅜, and Illinois Central ¾ point. Erie and B. & O. were unchanged.

The market developed weakness in the first half hour, nearly all the prominent stocks declining fractionally.

Rock Island common, Wabash preferred and Great Northern lost ¼ each, Pennsylvania ⅜, Southern Pacific, M., K. & T., Canadian Pacific and St. Paul ½ each, Union Pacific ⅝ and Reading ¾.

The industrials followed the trend of the rails. Steel common was active and weak, losing 1¼. The Copper stocks declined a large fraction each.

As the session progressed the market became weaker, Union Pacific, Reading and Steel common being the leaders. At the end of the first half hour Steel common had declined 2 points.

Americans in London were weak, being from ¼ to ¾ below parity.

EAST ST. LOUIS WOMAN SUES FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE

Mrs. Bluedorn Asserts That Her Husband Has Failed to Support Her.

Mrs. Emma Bluedorn of 110 North Eighteenth street, East St. Louis, filed a bill in the City Court Thursday for separate maintenance against her husband, William H. Bluedorn, great chief of records of the Improved Order of Red Men. Bluedorn brought suit for divorce in August on the ground that his wife had attempted to poison him. He alleged that on Nov. 18, 1908, he saw her pouring a clear liquid into his coffee out of a bottle labeled "arsenic." On July 22, 1909, when he had her brought before Justice of the Peace Frank Collins for the attempt on his life, she made a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $20 with money which had previously been given to her by Bluedorn for that purpose.

Mrs. Bluedorn alleges in her bill that her husband has not supported her or her children since he left their home in March, 1909. The children are Mildred, 11 years old, and Henry, 8.

EAST ST. LOUIS NOTES.

E. A. Dorris, assistant postmaster of Breese, Ill., identified the bundle of stamps, valued at $176, Thursday that was found in possession of W. E. Guinzey, a saloon keeper of Collinsville, who was picked up by the East St. Louis police Wednesday and who was responsible for the capture of three men from whom he got the stamps. They are supposed to belong to a gang of safe blowers who have been operating in small town postoffices in this section of the State for the last five months. Guinzey, Thomas Murphy, Ezra Helm and George Burnside were taken before Commissioner Knowles Thursday and were held pending further investigation.

The women of the Crescent Society of the First Christian Church will serve meals at 505 Missouri avenue Monday.

There will be an entertainment Friday evening at the First Christian Church, given by members of the Sunday school. Recitations and musical numbers, together with a short sketch, will make up the program. The proceeds will be devoted to the building fund.

At a meeting of the East St. Louis Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Louis Boismenue Thursday afternoon Mrs. John P. Metzen and Mrs. Frank J. Healy were selected as delegates to the meeting of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, which convenes in Chicago Nov. 9, 10 and 11. Mrs. D. B. Beatty and Mrs. Arthur McDonnell were chosen as alternates. Mmes. Ella H. Ochiltree, R. W. Browning, Helen Reneau and William R. EVERY EAST SIDE PLANING MILL BECOMES OPEN SHOP, MEN QUIT

Employers' Announcement Is Followed by Walkouts in Several Plants.

All the planing mills in East St. Louis posted notices Friday morning that hereafter they would be open shops, dealing with individuals and not with the unions, hours and wages to remain the same.

At the Interstate Planing Mill 50 men belonging to the Carpenters' District Council walked out at once. Twelve men quit at the D. Goede & Co. mill. At the plant of Theodore Wiegreffe & Sons 20 men said they would quit at noon. At the Gedney plant 45 men announced their intention to walk out at noon.

The men received $3.55 a day, working nine hours. The trouble between the union and the employers was caused by the recent discharge of two union men.

Helped Sharpen Ax for His Decapitation.

TULSA, Ok., Oct. 22.—Alleging that her husband had forced her to turn a grindstone to sharpen an ax, with which he said he intended to split her head open, Mrs. Leanna Palmer today filed suit in the District Court for divorce from Thomas J. Palmer, a farmer.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives the news gathered by the Associated Press.

RYS. PREFERRED RECOVERS SOME OF ITS LOSSES

Trading on Exchange Is Monopolized by Commerce and Railways Preferred.

National Bank of Commerce and United Railways preferred made a partial recovery of their recent losses at Friday's session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange. Railways preferred made a good showing, closing at sales at 68 against 66¾ the previous day, and with no offerings.

Commerce sold at 223, which is slightly higher for round lots. These two stocks monopolized the business of the session. Quotations in the miscellaneous list showed a tendency to harder prices.

NATIVE CATTLE—There was about an average supply of native cattle received today. The market proved quite irregular, with some sales holding steady, while others were a little lower. It was something of a clean-up day for odds and ends. Stockers were again dull. This has been a bad week for the stocker trade, supplies proving heavy and the demand rather indifferent. No choice fat steers were received today, but some fair ones came in and sold for $5.35.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—Receipts aggregated 1000 head, and included a fair representation of Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi canners and cutters. The market showed more activity than was apparent in the native division and a good clearance was effected. Prices were fully steady all down the line. No good steers were offered, the best stock available bringing $3.90. There is some uncertainty among traders regarding the volume of next week's cattle supply, but many are inclined to look for a let-up in arrivals.

HOGS—The market under light receipts and a good demand opened active and full 5c higher on all kinds except the poorer grades, but later this advance was all lost and the market closed weak. The top of the market was $7.75, and the bulk of good hogs sold at $7.45 @7.70. Pigs and lights were higher and pigs show a gain of 50@75c for the week. Packers were slow buyers, and as soon as the shippers and butchers were through they became bearish and the advance was soon taken off. Packers bought most of their hogs at $7.45@7.60; however, they paid up close to the top for a few loads. Best lights sold at $7.20 @7.50, and best pigs, 110 lbs. and less, went at $6.75@7.25, some weighing less than 100 lbs. going over $7.00.

SHEEP—Trade was weak and the market slow and draggy all day. Good lambs were close to steady with yesterday or 10@15c lower than the forepart of the week, but sheep were lower and the decline for the week amounts to 50c in a good many cases. Best lambs sold at $6.65@7, best sheep at $4.25@4.50 and fat bucks at $3@3.50. Half-fat offerings met with a very poor demand and sold slow.

HORSES—Retail interests had the trade pretty well to themselves today. In the absence of an auction the few buyers who still needed horses to complete their consignments operated among dealers for the necessary supplies.

MULES—In addition to holdovers, several fresh loads of commission mules arrived. All good fat offerings are in demand at steady prices. Blemished and green mules are hard to sell at satisfactory values.

MONEY MARKETS.

Transactions at the St. Louis banks and trust companies have been in good volume. The past few days have been the most satisfactory in the monetary situation since the late financial flurry. The demand for money has been generally good and general business has taken on normal activity, and in places somewhat better than normal. Clearings are large, and in excess of the same time last year. Rates are firm at between 5 and 6 per cent.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—The tone of the local money market is a trifle easier, influenced by the slight lowering of rates in New York. At the same time there is no appreciable change, and none is anticipated until money begins to return from the interior in volume, which is expected by the middle of next month. On call, money rules from 4½ to 5½ per cent, mostly 5 per cent. Time money is quiet at 4½ to 5½ per cent, mostly 5 per cent, for all dates up to six months.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Call money was in good demand at 3 per cent. The Indian Council made 30-day loans at 3½ per cent. Spot discounts were firm at 3⅞ to 4 per cent as the general quotation, but no business was done over 3 15-16 per cent.

The new issue of £2,500,000 six-months' Treasury bills is intended to replace those maturing in the next three months.

WHEAT HIGHER ON SHORT COVERING

Strong Cash Premiums and Firm Cables Cause Good General Demand.

The local wheat market was strong Friday. The large short interest has not been appreciably relieved and a tendency to cover on the part of this faction, based on some bullish foreign news, constituted a good demand. There were few offerings and prices advanced steadily.

The principal bull factor was the strength in the cash market. The weather is very favorable throughout the country for the marketing of grain. The fall sown crop is still reported in good condition. Farmers in the winter wheat belt are showing an increased tendency to sell, as was natural, in view of the extremely high premiums. Receipts in the Northwest and Canada were also of heavy volume. The impressive feature, however, was the stubborn manner in which cash prices held up, despite these conditions. With the short interest so large there seems little hope of replenishing stocks to any extent until spring wheat is deflected more liberally to central markets. There was good interest in the flour business, which was reflected in a good demand from the mills. Premiums on the good grades were strong, which was the principal reason of the short covering and firm tone in the pit.

Exports from Argentine showed a sharp falling off from the small volume of the previous week. There were serious complaints of locust damage in that country. This tended to strengthen European markets. Liverpool closed ⅝d higher.

The local market opened firm on the higher cables, disregarding prospects of extremely large world's shipments on Monday. The tone was also supported by advices from the Pacific Coast telling of large activity and a good demand from the East. Prices advanced sharply and toward noon ruled steady at gains of about a cent net.

December wheat opened ¾c higher at $1.06½, sold at $1.06¾ and advanced to $1.07½. May wheat opened a shade lower at $1.06½ and was bid up to $1.07¼.

MAN IN WHOSE HOME CARD SCANDAL ORIGINATED, DEAD

It Was at Arthur Wilson's Where Sir William Gordon-Cumming Was Accused of Cheating at Baccarat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Cable dispatches were received in this city yesterday announcing the death of Arthur Wilson, one of the prominent shipping men in England, at his home, Tranby Croft, near Hull.

Mr. Wilson was born 74 years ago, a younger son of the late Thomas Wilson of Park House, Cottingham.

Mr. Wilson's town house was at 17 Grosvenor Place, S. W. His country house was the scene of the famous "Tranby Croft scandal," back in 1890, in which the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII, was so unpleasantly involved.

The Prince, according to accepted versions of the story, had been invited to stay at Walbeck Abbey, the country seat of the Duke of Portland, during the Doncaster races, but he was informed that the presence of Lady Brooke, now the Countess of Warwick, whose name he had handed in as one of those he would like to have invited to the Abbey during his stay, was not agreeable to the Duchess.

The Prince thereupon accepted the invitation of Mrs. Wilson, wife of Arthur Wilson, to spend the week at Tranby Croft.

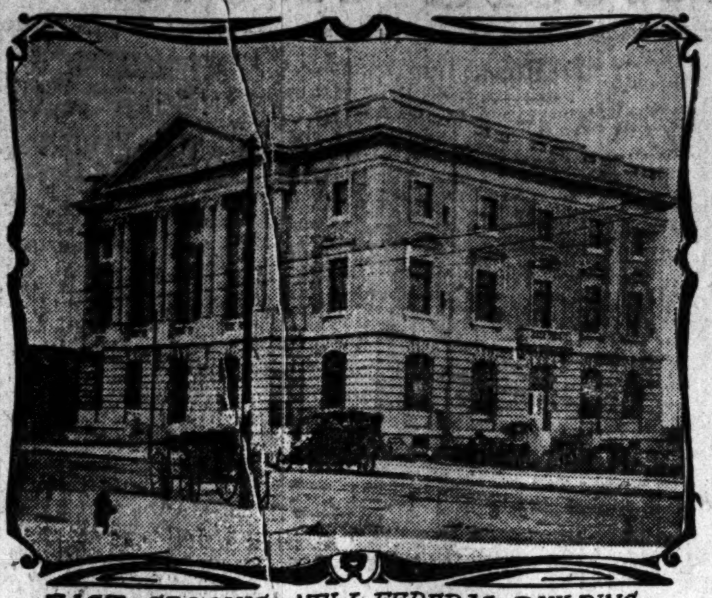
During the Prince's stay Sir William Cordon-Cumming was accused of cheating at Baccarat, and it was understood that he agreed thence forward to leave cards alone if the affair was kept in absolute secrecy. Lady Brooke was prevented after all from joining the house party by the death of her stepfather, the Earl of Rosslyn, but some time later she taunted Sir William about the card affair and it was this caused the whole scandal to come out.

The supposition was that the Prince had confided it to Lady Brooke in spite of the pledges of secrecy made by those involved. The affair gave Lady Brooke the somewhat clinging title of "The Babbling Brooke."

One version of the affair was that the scandal was the result of a conspiracy against Sir William by certain women of high English society who had come to dub him "William Tell."

Lady Brooke always denied that she revealed the scandal.

EAST ST. LOUIS POSTOFFICE TO BE DEDICATED BY PRESIDENT



EAST ST. LOUIS, NEW FEDERAL BUILDING.

MONDAY WILL BE GREAT DAY FOR EAST ST. LOUIS

President Taft, Vice-President Sherman and Other Prominent Men at Dedication of New Postoffice.

East St. Louis expects the proudest day in the history of the city next Monday, when President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Speaker Cannon, Gov. Deneen, the Illinois Congressmen and State officials are to be present at the dedication of the new Federal building at 3:45 p. m.

The building, located on Missouri avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, cost $350,000, the appropriation being secured through the efforts of Congressman William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis. At the same time will be celebrated the inauguration of work on the new levee, costing $7,000,000, the drainage canal, $350,000, and an outlet sewer to be built at a cost of $750,000. The drainage canal is almost completed. This and the levee are built by special taxation of property holders.

The Federal Building is three stories high, of buff brick, with white stone trimmings. The main entrance, on Missouri avenue, is of stone construction, with Ionic columns. The cornices and balustrades on the roof are of stone. The roof is supported by steel trusses, the covering being copper and slate.

The Postoffice will occupy the first floor, with offices of Postmaster J. B. Messick and his asistant.

On the second floor are the Federal courtroom and the chambers of the judges and other court officials. The internal revenue office, the grand and petit jury rooms and the United States Marshal are on the third floor.

We Are Underselling Again This Season

EACH and every season since our advent in St. Louis seven years ago, we've had the enviable honor and distinction of selling, quality for quality considered, at the lowest prices in St. Louis. We've saved thousands of dollars annually to our customers. This season is no exception to the rule. This fact has been indisputably established by actual comparison by experts. Consequently "The Model" will be the destination tomorrow and any other day, of the man who wants to see his money buy the maximum of clothes quality and style, and who desires the utmost degree of satisfaction. ℭ Our ability to undersell proves the wisdom of our policy. If we handled only the merchandise of one manufacturer we couldn't ever undersell, because our allegiance to him would compel us to pay higher prices than we do, and then we could have only his limited output of styles. So we are an independent house, with the world for our market. Our policy is to gather a full representation of the best and varied styles of the season as created and produced in garments of tested quality by the foremost American clothes makers.

"The Model" sells exclusively in St. Louis such well-known makes as the "Art System," "Adler-Rochester Clothes," "Brokaw Bros.," "Society Brand," "Abt's Greek Letter Clothes," "Classic," "Smart Set Clothes," and others too numerous to mention here.

THESE are makers whose products possess extraordinary merit of fabrics, workmanship and quality. They employ the most capable designers and most competent tailors in the land. No one can get better materials than they do; in matters of style they are unquestioned leaders. "The Model" has for your selection this grand aggregate assortment of weaves and styles. The most particular dressers—business, professional and men in other walks of life—find their ideals in these suits. With our enormous volume of business it is possible for us to have a constant, almost daily, appearance of new garments and styles in our stocks.
